Upland College Facts And Figures Bared For Public Meeting

In preparation for "a public presentation of pertinent facts," Dan Chamberlain, acting president of Upland College, this week released to THE NEWS a large amount of "frank information," intended as an aid for the coming open session.

The public meeting, sponsored by the Upland Chamber of Commerce, will be held at 7:30 p.m. Tuesday, June 8, at the Upland College Chapel, Arrow and San Antonio.

Much of the helpful data provided by Chamberlain was culled from a report to the Western Association of Schools and Colleges Accrediting Commission for Senior Colleges and Universities, completed by a five-member accreditation committee after a three-day visit to the Upland College campus last November.

"By releasing some of the vital sections of the report at this time, we hope to clear the air and promote a fresh start here at the college," Chamberlain said. "I have tried to select information which will clarify our present situation."

The urgency of Chamberlain's move and the Chamber's meeting developed two weeks ago when the College announced officially it is considering the possibility of "merger" with another similar institution in order to form a stronger financial base of operations.

The announcement no doubt was influenced by confirmation from Los Angeles Pacific College — with which Upland College had been negotiating—that it is merging with Azusa College. That school will be known as Azusa Pacific College and will continue on the present Azusa College campus.

In his release this week, Chamberlain advised that the 1964 visitation team was of the opinion, as was its last accreditation predecessor in 1962, that it had a two-fold responsibility: (1) to investigate action taken on the recommendations of the previous team and (2) to consider the 1964 status of Upland College financially, administratively and academically.

According to the visiting committee's report introduction, "Upland College prepared well for the visitation. A succinct, clear and objective self-study report indicated conscientious preparation. Many exhibits supporting the self-study were made available and every courtesy was extended during the two and one-half day visit."

The following information was released by Chamberlain under the designated report sub-titles:

STANDARDS OF SCHOLARSHIP

The standards for admission as a regular student at Upland appear precise enough: ranking in the upper one-half of the graduating class from an accredited high school and scoring at 950 or higher on the Scholastic Aptitude Test.

It will be noted, however, that about 40 per cent of the entering students from 1959-64 did not quite fit this pattern and were "exceptions" admitted by committee action.

The present standards for secondary-school performance are somewhat below what they were prior to 1962; however, the number of dismissals for reasons of scholarship appears to have risen in the past two years.

It would seem, therefore, that while the standards for admission are somewhat more relaxed, the standards for retention within the College have remained unchanged.

One of the more hopeful aspects of the concern for scholarship on the part of Upland College is the record of their graduates who have gone on for work elsewhere. In gen-

FOUR FORCES FOR SAFETY — Among many who contributed to the success Tuesday of Upland School Traffic Safety Committee awards luncheon were (left to right) Det. T. D. Smith, who discussed liaison between home and school; Mrs. H. City Going To Court In Spur Vote Fight

Golf Course Study OK'd By Council

Determination of the Upland City Council to resolve this summer the question of what to do with acreage east of Cable Airport was reflected markedly by four actions taken during a quick two-hour Council meeting Tuesday night.

By unanimous resolution, the three-member quorum on hand accepted the employment of J. B. Hanauer & Co.—for a fee of $1,500 — to conduct a feasibility study of a municipal golf course within the limits of the 210 acres involved.

Mayor Pro Tem James Christensen and Councilmen Ronald Rossitter and George Gibson also approved a resolution amending the General Plan from light industrial to agricultural use in this same area, bounded by Mountain and Benson Aves. and 13th and 16th Sts.

This particular resolution was "automatic," since these three Council members, along with Mayor Max Hawkins and Councilman Abner Haldeman, had voted against Dewey Cable's bid to amend the General Plan so as to designate the northwest-quadrant land for future industrial use at their May 18 meeting.

A third action which indicated the trend in Council's thinking was its adjournment until the Sept. 7 meeting of a scheduled public hearing "to await the golf course decision." Fredericks Development Corp., which expressed its endorsement of the postponement, has asked for a zone change on 9½ acres on the north side of 13th St. west of Mountain Ave.

In connection with this move, inasmuch as several parcels within the 210 acres are zoned residential, Council asked that an ordinance be drawn up "freezing" the issuance of building permits in the

Area Schools Lose Ally

The future of two or three-district school unification in the Chaffey area appeared questionable this week following the sudden announcement that a staunch proponent of such a plan is about to leave the West End.

Dr. Marion Robert Adkison, superintendent of Cucamonga's Central School District since 1958, announced Friday that he will become superintendent of the Ceres Unified School District effective July 1.

The Central School Board, spurred on by Adkison, has sought a meeting of all area trustees to weigh the feasibility of a two or three-district proposal ever since one-district unification was defeated soundly at the polls in April.

"I didn't realize how much people were looking my way for leadership in connection with new unification ideas until I tendered my resignation," the superintendent told THE NEWS. "I've received an awful lot of calls from interested people."

In view of the State Legislature's continued moves toward unification throughout California, Adkison said schools in the Chaffey area are in "kind of a lame-duck situation." He said any meeting to consider fresh unification approaches probably will not be held until fall — "and then it will take strength from our area to get it going."

DR. MARION ADKISON

A graduate of West End schools with "many ties here," Adkison pointed out that the offer from Ceres "came rather quickly" and presented "a really difficult decision for me." Adkison was interviewed by the Ceres Board on May 22 and confirmation of his appointment came last Friday.

Ceres, a 62-square-mile district including 4,000 to 5,000 students attending six elementary schools, one junior high and one senior high, is located in northern California near Modesto.

"It offers a new type of educational experience for me," Adkison commented. "It's an opportunity for professional advancement which I couldn't turn down."

The superintendent said letters are being dispatched to colleges advertising for his successor. He voiced the hope

Rock Firm Aims To KO Election

The City of Upland, represented by Atty. Donald Maroney, will appear in Superior Court in Ontario at 9:30 a.m. Friday, June 4, to show cause why its City Council believes a referendum election should be held next month.

Judge Carl Hilliard ordered the appearance last Friday after granting a temporary restraining measure against the July 13 election, prompted by efforts of the Santa Fe Railroad to extend a spur track in northeast Upland.

Both the order to show cause and the temporary restraining order were sought in separate court actions brought by Pacific Rock and Gravel Co. and two longtime City residents, William Kistinger and Warren Wass. Ontario Atty. Samuel Crowe represented the company and the individuals.

In two other separate filings, the rock firm as well as Kistinger and Wass jointly issued complaints for injunctive relief through a temporary injunction enjoining the referendum election.

After hearing Maroney and Crowe present their arguments concerning a factual situation, it will be Judge Hilliard's responsibility to weigh the legal question — and rule whether or not to make the injunction stick.

Observers have speculated that the Superior Court jurist may require additional time to study the facts, that he may continue the matter beyond Friday. In that event, the restraining order would prohibit the election as now scheduled.

If he should surprise most courtroom veterans and make a quick determination, either side would be in a position to challenge the ruling in the District Court of Appeals. In that event, a waiting period of nine months could be expected before any final decision was reached.

"For all practical purposes," Maroney commented

Church Sets National Parley Here

The 95th General Conference of the Brethren in Christ Church of the United States and Canada will be convening at the Upland Brethren in Christ Church June 7-14. The Conference will tax the facilities of the local church and Upland College.

The General Church Boards will begin meeting Monday, June 7, with public meetings from Thursday through Sunday evening. The Conference officially opens Wednesday evening with a Communion Service. Thursday morning greetings will be brought to the Conference by City Mgr. Elwin Alder and others.

The overall planning for the entertainment of the Conference is in charge of a steering committee of which Bishop Alvin C. Burkholder is chairman. He also is serving as host director of the Conference.

Serving with him on the committee are Dwight Bert,

For The Sake Of Safety: 60 Earn Special Awards

Surprises materialized Tuesday afternoon faster than you can say "Upland School Traffic Safety Committee" as 60 guests of the City of Upland were saluted at USTSC's first annual awards luncheon at the Royal Tahitian in Ontario.

No sooner had Mrs. Bette Morgan, the Committee's enterprising general chairman, singled out Upland Det. T. D. Smith for "special recognition" — an award not listed on the program — than Mrs. Morgan herself received a surprise plaque from the City.

Smith, one of five members of the Committee, was honored for his great help in organizing the School Traffic Safety Program this past year. Mrs. Morgan was praised for sparking the Committee to its initial year of achievement.

As part of the planned program, certificates of appreciation signed by Mayor Max Hawkins were presented to PTA women of the different Upland schools for their volunteer service in the field of traffic safety.

Dick Savaiano, a junior who served as safety chairman at Upland High School, was the lone student recipient of an award.

In a festive atmosphere, with tables appropriately and colorfully decorated with various traffic safety symbols, the affair was given jointly by City, school and PTA officials. Its aim, according to Mrs. Morgan, was "to project an awareness of the need to continue USTSC projects, whose common goal is protecting the lives of children."

The City was well-represented by Councilman Ronald Rossitter, who spoke about safety challenges in a growing municipality; City Mgr. Elwin Alder, who served as master of ceremonies; City Engr. Fred Blanchard, a Committee member, who discussed the need to know one's municipality; and Smith, who gave a message about liaison between home and school.

For the Upland School District, Supt. Harold Cook spoke on "The School and Safety," Deputy Supt. Vern Orum told of the value of USTSC to the District and Assistant Supt. James Smith, also a Committee member, discussed "Moral Responsibility."

Orum also led the pledge of allegiance, while the Committee's fifth member, UHS Vice Principal Harvey Shirk, gave the invication and discussed the principal's role in traffic safety. The PTA's participation was covered by Mrs. Birscoe Root incoming president of Foothill Council.

Award recipients included: UHS — Savaiano, Mrs. Clyde Mackall and Mrs. Harry Dier.

Sierra Vista School — Mmes. Robert Achenbach, James Collings, William DeGroat, Herb Ellis, Russell Franz, James Hoffman, James Houghton, Joseph Mangiagli, Louis O'Brien, Norman Sweeney, William Atkinson, John Caputo, Phillip Dial, Bill Fifer, Calvin French, Frank Hoover,

Inspiration Not Installation

Departing from the traditional script — in an effort to stimulate a "bold, new look" —the Upland Chamber of Commerce will skip installation formalities at its annual banquet, scheduled for 7 p.m. Thursday, June 3, in the Miramonte Room of the Uplander Motor Hotel.

"We had originally intended to install the new officers," Chamber Mgr. Tony Malone informed THE NEWS, "but, since Dwight Bert has been re-elected president, we thought it would be better to move right ahead with our program — a fine one."

Malone said ticket sales, under the persistent guidance of Dewey Cable, have been progressing well and, while some are still available (at $4.50 per person), he predicted "a full house." Last week's successful membership breakfast has helped the banquet cause considerably, according to the manager.

Principal speaker for the occasion will be Superior Court Judge Carl Hilliard, a highly regarded after-dinner storyteller. "The judge is a newcomer to Upland and should offer some new thoughts," Malone enthused, "so we've left the subject matter flexible —he's on his own."

Other highlights of the evening will include a report on 1964-65 Chamber activities by Bert (see front page of second section), words of welcome from the City of Upland by Mayor Pro Tem James Christensen and presentation of a dozen or so awards to outstanding businesses and individuals, plus plaques to outgoing members of the Board of Directors.

"We expect a lot of new faces at the event," said Malone, who also noted that the Ontario-Upland Junior Chamber of Commerce, of which he was president this past year, will be given a special commendation.

Attorney Harold Bailin, also an active Jaycee member, will introduce Judge Hilliard. Rev. Bill Burch, pastor of the Nazarene Church of Upland and president of the Upland Ministerial Association, will give the invocation and Robert Joines, outgoing Chamber vice president, will lead the pledge of allegiance.

Favorite Spring Guessing Game: Who Will Succeed Councilman Haldeman?

By MEL HODELL

Speculation is the order of the day on who will replace Abner Haldeman as a City Councilman.

For several weeks the rumors have centered around the replacement for Haldeman who now officially has resigned his position at Upland College to go to San Jacinto as City Manager.

Haldeman is expected to resign soon at a meeting of the Council. He attended Friday's budget session, but missed Tuesday's regular Council meeting due to a San Jacinto conflict. He cannot be absent from Council duties here for more than 60 consecutive days without forfeiting the local position.

So the question is who should replace him.

The Council has 30 days to name a replacement for the balance of the four-year term, which ends in April, 1966—just 10 months away—or the Council may call an election.

If the Council fails to act within the 30 days, then an election automatically is provided for under the law.

It is expected that the Council will APPOINT a person to replace Haldeman, especially considering the shortness of the term left to serve. Also, the City already is faced with the prospect of two special elections during the year ahead.

Next April, Mayor Max Hawkins and Mayor Pro-Tem James Christensen will face re-election time.

Neither has been contacted —but it is normally expected at this time that both will run for another term.

As incumbents, there always is an "edge" and this enters into the thinking of the Haldeman replacement problem.

Voters will recall that in April, 1964, William Kistinger and Robert Marriott were slaughtered at the polls in a uniform city-wide repudiation of the Haldeman-Kistinger-Marriott trio by a fantastic 5 to 1 margin.

We have learned at THE NEWS that there is great thought being given by the handful who favored the two defeated candidates to try to re-coup at the polls next April.

Opposition to the downtown location rather than on Foothill, of the Civic Center might be used as the key to a "comeback" attempt by the interests. The mighty uproar of the spur issue in Foothill Knolls also is being considered as something to latch onto to try to revive the faded fortunes.

Building and developments along Mountain Avenue have been held up in the two-year "interim" period without political support, and these interests are heartily in favor of getting a foothold in Council affairs again. There also is the matter of small lot sizes which afford builders more return.

Conditions change in Council positions, as in men's own lives.

Probably the most significant change that many people do not realize is that Mayor Hawkins now is a full-fledged member of the real estate field, as a salesman handling properties.

I mention this only in passing, but there has been comment from many sources as to what this might mean in the future, as evidenced from his position at the Council table on some matters in recent days.

Haldeman had the spark taken from his Councilmanic position after the disastrous 5-1 defeat of his two buddies. For the most part he has been keeping the seat warm, and only recently has appeared to come out of his shell to back up the City Manager and then to participate in the San Antonio Water election which was such a fiasco for the City's official policy.

All of which brings us to the fact that next April there promises to be a spirited race for three positions on the Council.

The great fear from responsible and thinking people is that a few of the "kooks" will be running and also the special interests will be out in full force in one form or another.

Election of one or two of these individuals would place the City Council back into the position of great unrest which it generally has not been in during the past year.

Recent controversy on the Council has been confined usually to issues, to votes on subject matter—and except for the Water Company annual election, the "old personality battles" have not been of a too serious or detrimental nature to the City.

The controversies engendered by Ronald Rossitter began to get a little bitter—but time has pretty-well healed this, and time also has proven that Eggman Mike has not been completely wrong or so far out of line as first thought by many others; and experience has aided him considerably.

SWAN-SONG SESSION of Upland Planning Commission was held last Thursday night for Daniel Maher (right), chairman, whose resignation became effective June 1. As a treat, the group went through a non-controversial, 15-item agenda in 75 minutes. Pictured with Maher are (left to right, seated) Will Mason, commissioner; Mrs. Kay Velgot, assistant secretary; and Mrs. Zella Stone, commissioner; and (left to right, standing) Phillip Born, commissioner; Earl Hawthorne, commissioner; and Rod Anderson, commission secretary and City planning director. Absent are Commissioners Rayburn Anderson and Maynard Book.

Realtors To Host State President At June 9 Fete

Members of the host Ontario-Upland Board of Realtors have been reminded by Grace Scott, entertainment and social chairman, that their reservations for next week's special dinner meeting must be made by Saturday, June 5.

The banquet, arranged by Russell Hazen, regional vice president of the 26th District of the California Real Estate Association, for 7:30 p.m. Wednesday, June 9, at the Royal Tahitian in Ontario, will honor State President David Robinson.

Robinson, called "a dynamic speaker," is expected to pinpoint the legislative activities now being "watched" by CREA in Sacramento and explain further steps being taken by CREA to push a voluntary equal housing program for minority groups.

Lucille Miller To Have Baby In Upland

San Antonio Community Hospital will be the birthplace for the fourth child of Lucille Miller, the 35-year-old Alta Loma housewife who is serving a life sentence at the nearby California Institution for Women for murdering her dentist husband.

The CIW superintendent, who reported that this will be the first time a prisoner has been granted leave to have a baby outside the prison walls since it was moved south from Tehachapi, said a staff physician will handle the delivery expected "this week or next."

Atty. Harold Lance of Upland, court-appointed guardian of Mrs. Miller's three youngsters, who live with Lance and his family, also has been chosen to release news bulletins from the hospital.

Upland College Looks To Future By Opening Book On Past

eral, it appears that they have been successful; and, in terms of grades earned, they have more than held their own.

In view of the relatively relaxed standards for entrance to Upland, it would seem that the performance of their graduates on other campuses is a positive tribute to the educational process which must go on during the stay of the student on this small campus.

STUDENT PERSONNEL

Registration at the College continues to be low. Fall 1964 trimester registration reveals the following:

Freshmen	21
Juniors	39
Seniors	40
Special, full-time	1
Special, part-time	14
Special, Short Term	13
Total	133
(112 F. T. E.)

*N.B. No sophomores recorded because of trimester program.

A comparison of the above statistics with those of 1963-64 shows that the Freshman Class has dropped three students and total registration has dropped from 174 (125 F. T. E.) to 133. The problem of enrollment, therefore, still continues to be a serious one. Continued and wider recruitment efforts are called for.

In addition, more attractive physical facilities are necessary. The "image" of the present Upland College campus is not conducive to attracting students.

The one aspect of the student program which appears deficient is tied in with budgetary considerations and with the direction of future curricular development. It would be desirable, for instance, to have a trained nurse available on campus; for two years, reliance has been placed on a physical therapist whose primary responsibility has been over-seeing the college cafeteria.

The second deficiency lies in the lack of an available, professionally-trained person who would be adept in dealing with the emotional problems of students. If a full-time member were to be selected to instruct in psychology, he could well be chosen with due regard to obtaining one with a Ph.D. in clinical psychology, one who would be interested in psychotherapy. (Richard Laird, a well-qualified psychologist, has been hired for the 1965-66 fiscal year).

FACULTY

As has been indicated in earlier parts of this report, the faculty needs to be strengthened in both numbers and academic preparation. The problem of "inbreeding" is not successfully solved by use of many part-time faculty. The committee urges an early implementation of more full-time faculty in departments indicated elsewhere in this report.

The College is to be commended for striving to induce able, younger scholars to take teaching positions. Obviously, these individuals have a sense of dedication to the aims of the College.

It should be pointed out, however, that it will be increasingly difficult to recruit faculty with the doctorate unless salaries are raised faster than the salary scales indicate. The committee urges, therefore, an all out effort to raise the salaries to a competitive level. Progress has been made in faculty salary raises but a satisfactory level has not yet been reached.

The instability of the faculty is a matter of proper concern. Of the 21 full-time professors and president, only one-third have been on the staff for longer than a fourth year, and one-fourth of the 20 teachers are new this year. The same proportion holds for the part-time faculty.

LIBRARY RESOURCES

The present library is completely inadequate, with one exception, namely, it is able to seat more than one-third of the student body. In all other respects, however, it is badly crowded. Nonetheless the most is made of little and the collection is orderly and the homelike atmosphere is conducive to study.

The decision of the Board of Trustees to proceed with the construction of a $600,000 library building to start as soon as possible is a major step forward for the College. This looks well for the future housing of the library and for its services. Administrative offices will also be housed in the new library building.

The present collection of 21,000 volumes is judged inadequate to support the College programs, but examination indicates that the collection of standard reference works is quite good with a minimum of outmoded cyclopedias and old sets of literary extracts, published sermons, etc.

In view of the above, the Board of Trustees has acted wisely in guaranteeing $50,000 a year for the next five years for acquisition of library materials. Praiseworthy, too, is the approved policy not to transfer unexpended book funds, at the end of the fiscal year, to the general College fund but to add such funds to the next year's library allocation.

The library is staffed by one professional, one sub-professional and a full-time clerk. This would appear to be adequate for the present time but as acquisitions begin to arrive, as a result of the $50,000 per year book budget, more help will be necessary.

PHYSICAL PLANT

Administrative offices are housed in minimal space. The problem will be solved with the erection of the library building with plans to transfer administrative offices to it.

The Chapel, with seating capacity for 340, is a good structure and should be adequate for some time to come.

A functional and well-constructed gymnasium is now, and will continue to be for some time, adequate.

Classroom buildings are Army surplus structures, well-installed, and appear to be fairly substantial. They contain a total of 13 classrooms and laboratories. Utilization reports indicate that classrooms are sufficient for a much larger enrollment than exists at present.

Laboratories include one for chemistry and another for a biology laboratory and classroom combined. The former will house more students but the latter will be inadequate if enrollment increases significantly.

One men's residence hall accommodates 24 students and a supervisor. The remaining on-campus resident facilities are scattered. A new women's residence hall, nearing completion, will substantially better the student housing facilities. The new residence will house 64 students and a supervisor. If the College grows numerically, there is need for more and better housing for men students. (The women's residence is now completed and in use).

As was mentioned earlier in this report, Upland College, in its physical plant, lacks an "image" that is attractive to secondary - school students. Every effort should be made, therefore, to better this image. Such effort may well help solve a serious problem at the College, low registration.

FINANCES

The College is to be commended for its continued efforts to establish a stable financial foundation. Notable improvements have been made in this regard since the last visitation.

Current indebtedness of the College consists of (1) 15 short-term notes (under two-years) to the amount of $278,000. (2) a loan of $350,000 from the United California Bank (at 6 per cent per annum) for the erection of the new women's hall, to be amortized over 15 years. (3) current accounts payable, including salaries, interest and venders, are in excess of $125,000.

It has been conceded by the administration that deficit financing is, and will continue to be, a "fact of life" at Upland College. "Deficit financing" is here understood as the inability to balance the operating budget by income derived from student tuition and fees alone. An anticipated deficit of $111,250 for the current fiscal year will have to be met by income from gifts and grants.

In view of the above, much effort has been expended to establish continuing sources of income for both operating expenses and capital expenditures. A committee of the Board of Trustees has been formed for an immediate "rifle shot" campaign. In addition, the Board has agreed to "go into business" in an effort to better sources of income.

Rising costs resulting from necessary faculty salary raises, from possible decreased income from student tuition and fees in a given trimester because of lower registration, from urgently-needed campus physical improvements, make it imperative that efforts for more income be continued.

The committee would commend the Board of Trustees in its recent efforts to support the College more in matters financial. Its promise of $100,000 a year for the next five years is laudatory. More remains to be done because the many problems of Upland College are based primarily on the lack of adequate financial support.

INSTITUTIONAL ORGANIZATION

The governing body of the College is a self-perpetuating Board of Trustees. Currently the Board is composed of 20 members and plans call for an immediate increase to 30.

Commendatory efforts are being made, through a "phasing out" process of Board members chosen primarily for Church affiliation, to add to the Board individuals fitted by business acumen, etc., to guide the College in the critical years ahead.

Membership in the Church of Brethren in Christ is not required of Board members. At the present, approximately 50 per cent of the Board are not members of the Constituent Church.

In view of the small student body at Upland College, and in view of the small faculty and limited library holdings at both Upland and Los Angeles Pacific College, the Committee strongly recommends continued and serious consideration of this sort of merger. Dissipation of educational efforts could well mean the extinction of many small colleges. Cooperation and coordination might well spell the difference between continued existence and extinction. (As noted above, L.A.P.C. already has merged, so Upland College now is looking elsewhere).

Beginning with the Fall 1964 Semester the College has embarked on a trimester academic calendar. Each trimester is of 14 weeks duration. Concurrent with the adoption of the trimester the College has restructured its entire curriculum so that it is organized into courses equivalent to five semester units.

This, in the words of the Catalog, "discourages the fragmentation of knowledge and aids the student to focus his attention more intensely on the three subjects which he carries each term."

The trimester plan was adopted for very solid reasons, namely, the acceleration of the student's collegiate career and the better use of physical facilities. Faculty and students were polled as to their sentiments regarding the trimester plan and reacted favorably.

However, because of the financial implications of such an academic calendar if student registration is not consistent for all trimesters, the administration of the College will wish to make a careful study of the trimester system. Too, because of the trimester plan increased financial aid programs will undoubtedly be necessary.

PLANS FOR THE FUTURE

A 10-year projection of various facets of the College was approved by the Board of Trustees and envisions

a) 1,000 F.T.E. students
b) 71 full-time faculty
c) A faculty-student ratio of 1:14
d) An average faculty salary of $8,500
e) Buildings necessary for growth, including the new library and more dormitories.
f) Acquisition of more land

COMMENDATORY FEATURES

1) The College has sincerely attempted to comply with the recommendations of the previous committee. Definite progress has been made over the last two years.

2) An excellent statement of objectives is found in the College Bulletin and efforts are made to implement them.

3) The General Education Core is a good educational venture. The willingness of the College to experiment is praiseworthy.

4) No undue proliferation of curricula or courses has taken place.

5) Students interviewed were vocal in their praise of the College and, in most cases, were alert and responsive in class.

6) Efforts to elicit greater responsiveness from the Board of Trustees, particularly in the matter of financial support, have been quite successful.

7) Success of Upland students at graduate schools speaks well for the undergraduate program.

8) The erection of a Women's Residence and a Library Building are signs of marked progress in the physical development of the campus.

RECOMMENDATIONS

1) Financial problems still continue to be the critical question at Upland College. Progress has been made but sustained and serious effort is called for to raise Upland College to a level of complete acceptance by its peers.

2) The library needs strengthening in all categories, viz., holdings, space, and staff.

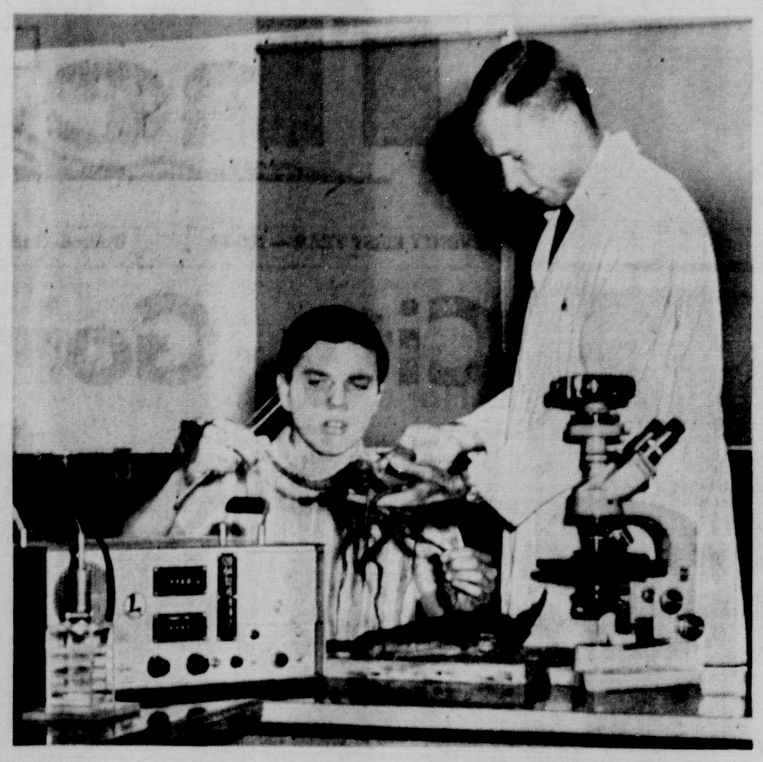

3) Faculty salaries still continue to be low. A college is as strong as its teaching staff and a competitive salary scale is a necessity to attract competent teachers.

4) Student registration is minimal. Persevering efforts are called for to attract more students. Low registration means narrow curricular offerings, lack of an atmosphere for the necessary exchange of ideas among students.

5) Too much reliance on part-time faculty results in adverse educational effects in the total college life of students. Efforts must be made for more full-time faculty.

6) The establishment of stable sources of financial support would be a decided step forward in the solution of a basic problem.

These and other recommendations detailed in the body of the Report will call for uncommon effort and dedication by the Board of Trustees, Administration, and Faculty at Upland College. Any slackening of effort might well result in the extinction of the institution.

IMPROVED CURRICULUM in the increasingly important areas of radiation, biology, aquatic biology and field biology will be made possible at Upland College as a result of a matching funds grant awarded this week by the National Science Foundation. The college must match the grant with an additional $7,100 from non-federal sources to purchase related equipment. This equipment also will allow expanded opportunities for individual in-depth research for biology students, such as Steve Koepp of Ontario, shown discussing an aquatic specimen with Professor Roland Fark.

Upland College Assets

EDUCATIONAL:

Upland is the immediate community's liberal arts college. As such it brings prestigious college professors to the City of Upland, offers parents and college-age students accredited educational facilities, provides courses of professional interests to businessmen, elementary teachers, social workers, etc., and creates a sophisticated "college" atmosphere throughout the town.

CULTURAL:

Upland exerts a profound cultural influence in the community. Its Lyceum Lecture series brings distinguished international authorities in the sciences, humanities and government to the community. The Valley Choral Arts Society, which performs with the West End Symphony, practices on campus and is directed by Dean William Haldeman. The Motet Choir presents concerts of sacred music on campus and in the community. The College also provides opportunities for art instruction to the community.

ECONOMIC:

More than a hundred people (including dependents of staff and faculty members) in the community are dependent on the college as a source of livelihood. The economic effect of the colleges' half-million dollar budget directly affects many local businesses. Indirectly, the entire community benefits from the presence of Upland College.

1964 Committee's Evaluation Of Recommendations In 1962

1962 Recommendations	1964 Findings
1. Financial problems are still a major obstacle. Plans for the development of long-range and dependable financial resources must be pursued with all possible vigor.	1. Progress has been made in the establishment of dependable financial resources. The Board of Trustees has committed itself concretely to the financial welfare of the College.
2. The library is still not adequate in (1) total collection, (2) reference works, (3) materials for keeping abreast of current scholarship, and (4) staff.	2. Holdings are still inadequate but a commitment of $50,000 a year, for five years, for library purchases is a marked step forward. The staff has been increased.
3. The student body is not as large as it should be.	3. The student body is still too small. One and one-half recruitment officers are engaged. New buildings should help attract more students. Merger with some other institution, if realized, will lessen the problem.
4. Faculty salaries are too low.	4. Raises have been given but still too low. A schedule has been set up and regular increment steps are followed.
5. Student personnel services are managing to get by with a minimum of resources for facilities and staff. The Dean of Students still has to perform too many functions. A trained counselor is needed, and facilities for keeping student personnel records should be improved.	5. Additional help for student recruitment has been added. A trained counselor is still needed. (He signed a contract recently for 1965-66).
6. The major curriculums should be strengthened.	6. All majors now require the equivalent of 30 semester upper division units.

Value Of Upland College To Upland: At Least $2,125,000 Every Year

As a social and cultural as well as educational focal point, Upland College has attracted many families to this community. People who seek the atmosphere and advantages of a college town have moved into this community from all parts of the United States.

Upland College has virtually recruited about 10 per cent of the teachers in the Upland and Ontario Elementary School Districts. Most of the college staff and faculty reside in the immediate community. Graduates who came to Upland from various states frequently remain in this community.

Many community leaders chose to serve in this community at least partly because of their relationship with Upland College.

Included among these men would be: Maynard C. Book, chairman of the Upland College Board of Trustees and member of the Upland Planning Commission; the late H. G. Brubaker, former president of the college and Upland Planning Commission member; Abner Haldeman, for 20 years business manager of Upland College and former mayor of Upland, now City Councilman; and Dr. John Martin, past president of the college and recipient of the National Association of Christians and Jews Award for community service.

Many people have sold farms and businesses in other parts of the country and made substantial investments in this community principally because of the college's presence here.

Upland College has a payroll of $20,000 per month—most of which stays in the community. The Department of Health, Education and Welfare estimates that economic value of each college student to a community (beyond the tuition and fees he pays the college) is $3,000.

With Upland College's full-time equivalent of 125 students, this means a $375,000 annual boost to the community.

Conservative economists estimate that every dollar brought into a community is multiplied through circulation at least five times before it is lost to another community. At this rate, the economic value of Upland College in terms of operational expenditures is at least $2,125,000 a year.

Two Citizens Join Rock Company To Challenge Referendum Election

following Tuesday night's Council meeting, "the election is delayed."

The City Attorney, who later met in executive session with the Councilmen to discuss their defense, declined to detail his plans. He did, however, mention that it was likely he would ask how Pacific Rock could claim to be an agent of the railroad and what the spur's designation on a City map has to do with holding a referendum election.

Pacific Rock has pointed out in its allegations that it spent $40,558.94 for improvement of the spur site after being advised last year that the Santa Fe had been granted its franchise to extend by the City. It also has noted that funds in excess of $2,000 would be required to inform the electorate of the facts in connection with the election, if the ballot is permitted.

Former Councilman Kistinger, a member of the Board of Directors of the San Antonio Water Co., which leases land to Pacific Rock for its operations, and Wass, an ex-member of the Board, have contended that they represent the taxpayers — and more than $3,000 of the taxpayers' money shouldn't be spent on such an election.

According to Crowe's complaints, his clients have no remedy through law, apparently because there is no record of a referendum election having been employed to contest a municipal ordinance (the granting of the spur franchise).

Also, the plaintiffs have stated that they will "suffer irrepairable harm" if the election is held, presumably because they don't want to pay to fight it, though the harm is not defined.

Crowe was unavailable to comment on why Santa Fe is not a party to the actions. It has been suggested, however, by a reliable source that the railroad is interested in rebuilding its public relations in the area.

"Just in case Judge Hilliard makes a decision in the City's favor Friday," Maroney asked Council to approve a special resolution at its Tuesday session. The Councilmen responded by taking action to appoint precinct election officers and designating polling places ,so Maroney will be "ready to move forward."

Adkison Sees New Challenge In New Post

that the "lame-duck situation" wouldn't deter applicants and he said he would be back and forth throughout July to help the newcomer, presuming the Central Board has acted by then.

Adkison received his bachelor of arts degree from the University of California and earned a master's degree in curriculum development and public school administration at Claremont Men's College. Two years of intense research—"a longitudinal study" — resulted in his Ph.D. last year.

Starting as a teacher in 1953, Adkison has served the Central District in a number of capacities. He was elevated to the assistant principalship and quickly to the principal's post during his first five years on the job.

The superintendent and his wife, Sarah Elizabeth, have resided at 7518 Buena Vista Drive in Cucamonga with their four youngsters, Peggy, 13, Bobby, 10, Jeannie, 7, and Mark, 6.

Commenting that "working in the Central District has been a wonderfully rewarding experience," Adkison said he and his wife will travel to Ceres this week end to meet his staff and be guests of honor at a community reception.

Personal Vignettes

Councilman Ronald Rossitter has been named by his colleagues to work with City Mgr. Elwin Alder in negotiations with Cable Airport representatives, and already several meetings have been held.

Rossitter, noted for his oratorical eloquence, really was wiping his brow one day last week after emerging from a session with Dewey Cable and his several sons, all members of the airport aristocracy.

"Wow," Rossitter said. "A long discussion with Dewey and his boys makes you feel like you've just been on a segment of 'Bonanza'."

In Upland for a pep rally last Saturday with West End Democrats, State Atty. Gen. Thomas Lynch parried questions from area newsmen at a half-hour press conference prior to the party.

Politics quite naturally occupied much of the time and brickbats quite logically were reserved for the Republicans. One reporter even asked Lynch to voice an opinion on the relative merits of San. Thomas Kuchel and Actor Ronald Reagan as an opponent for Gov. Edmund Brown.

"If you had asked me that before the last election (when ex-Actor George Murphy defeated Pierre Salinger in a Senatorial race), I would have an answer for you," the Attorney General said. "Now, I don't — I don't know the impact of Hollywood on California politics."

The National Conference of Christians and Jews gave two of its 1965 West End Brotherhood Awards to a pair of Uplanders — "just in the nick of time," according to one of the local recipients.

"John Martin and I received the awards in April," Daniel Maher commented at last Thursday's meeting of the Planning Commission, his final appearance as chairman-member of the group. "Now, less than a month later, he's no longer president of Upland College and I'm no longer a Planning Commissioner."

Timoteo Ortega Services Held

Funeral services were held Wednesday for Timoteo Ortega, 73, 10247 26th St., Cucamonga, who died Saturday in San Bernardino.

A native of Mexico, Ortega had lived in Cucamonga for 44 years. He was a retired agricultural worker, and had formerly resided in San Bernardino.

Surviving are a son, Juan B. Ortega, Cucamonga, and a daughter, Mrs. Esther Trujillo, Etiwanda. He also leaves seven grandchildren.

Rev. H. O. Espinoza, pastor of Cucamonga Church of the Nazarene, officiated at the funeral, held at that church.

An evening service was also held at Stone Funeral Home, Tuesday. Interment was at Bellevue Cemetery, Ontario.

Around Town...

... with florene dick

I had a very pleasant experience in downtown Upland this week.

... It seems nowadays, when one goes shopping, one is immediately a shoplift suspect.

True, the stores experience considerable losses from this enterprise, but somehow I begin to get an odd feeling when an armed guard shifts from one clothes rack to another, as I move over one, in some of the large chain department stores in other towns.

When we take garments to the dressing room, a clerk counts them, and issues a ticket stating the number we take in, and then they are carefully counted when we emerge.

When we make a purchase, the bag is then stapled shut so nothing can be slipped in later . . .

Thus it was refreshingly enlightening when I walked into an Upland hardware store to purchase flexible hose to match a sample I had with me.

The store carried two sizes, but neither matched the sample exactly. The salesman was sure that one of them would work, so he charged me for one and told me to bring back the one that didn't fit.

No identification . . . just a feeling of trust.

I felt good, and I intend to shop there often.

Before you rush to large, impersonal business places in surrounding cities, it pays to try your local merchant.

KEEP ON THE BALL, TEAM — That was the spirit of the evening last Thursday as new officers of the Alta Loma High School PTA were installed (as indicated, they were attired for sports action). Pictured are (left to right, kneeling) Mrs. Lloyd Michael, outgoing president; Mrs. Burton A. Wiley, installing officer; and Mrs. Frank Kadunc, new president; and (left to right, standing) Mrs. Marguerita Stewart, historian; Mrs. Jack C. Fletcher, secretary; Mrs. James Wilson, treasurer; and Mrs. Norman Hixson, vice president.

Secret Dad's Dinner Honors Kitchen Help

Lynn Dunston, honored queen of Bethel 287, Upland, knighted six fathers at the Job's Daughters secret dad's dinner Tuesday, May 18, at the Upland Masonic Hall.

Knighted into the "Order of Royal Knights of the Kitchen" were Bob Wayne, Chuck Yukech, Harry Dunston, Rudy Colletti, Eugene Atterberry and Murrell Gandy. This is an Order to recognize the men who have served three or more years in the kitchen at the Job's Daughters affairs. After being knighted the men were awarded aprons and a dish with a ribbon attached.

Secret dads have daughters in the Bethel. At the beginning of each term the fathers' names are passed to each girl of the Bethel. During the term the girls and the fathers correspond, each father attempting to identify his secret daughter before the revelation dinner, six months later.

The girls and the fathers then enjoy a potluck that is prepared by the girls.

The St. Mark's Episcopal Church home and garden tour May 22 and 23 was "very successful," with more than 300 persons visiting the five area homes.

Homes visited were those of Mr. and Mrs. John Svenson, Montclair; Mr. and Mrs. Nelson Gray, Upland; Mr. and Mrs. Stanley Sage, Alta Loma; Mr. and Mrs. Stanley Allen, Alta Loma; and Mr. and Mrs. John C. Engel, Alta Loma.

GRANDMOTHERS LUNCH

The card group of the Grand Capers Grandmothers Club will meet for luncheon at 11 a.m., Thursday, June 3, at Knotts Berry Farm.

EARLY AMERICAN THEME will prevail from 11 a.m. to 5 p.m. Saturday, June 5, when the Carnelian PTA sponsors its first annual Western Roundup at the school in Alta Loma. Modeling typical attires for the event are (left to right) Cindy Crakes, daughter of Mrs. Leo Crakes, booth chairman; Kathy Lees, daughter of Mrs. Thomas Lees, food chairman; Theresa Stansbury and her mother, Mrs. Ray Stansbury, PTA president. PTA Guard Changes At ALHS

Mrs. Lloyd Michael, president of the Alta Loma High School PTA, presided over the May meeting held at the school cafeteria.

Burton A. Wiley, principal of the high school, informed the group of important dates coming up for the senior class —the first commencement exercises will be held June 17 at the high school. He also took the opportunity to thank Mrs. Michael, her PTA officers and chairmen for the cooperation extended to him and the school this past year.

Mrs. Wiley used a "Housekeeping" theme when she installed the following Mmes.: Frank Kadunc, president; Norman Hixson, vice president; Jack C. Fletcher, secretary; James Wilson, treasurer; Marguerita Stewart, historian; and Roderick Long, auditor. Each officer received a gift symbolic of the office for this coming year.

The following chairmen were ratified by the unit: Mmes. Margaret Beckley, telephone; Millard Herr, welfare; Jack Whitney and Thomas Harne, hospitality; Stewart, membership; Michael, newsette; Eugene Anderson, publicity record book; and A. T. Arbezzi, publicity.

The program for the evening was presented in the gymnasium under the supervision of Miss Mary M. Pollock, department chairman; Miss Susan Buzzell, drill team; Miss Sandra J. Cox, Leader's Club; and Mrs. Etta Binion, equipment matron.

A film demonstrated the many activities of the physical education department of ALHS.

Extra activities were explained by a student panel consisting of Linda Webb, pep squad; Linda Pain, pep council; Marion Duran, drill team; Sharon Putnam, intramurals; Roberta Stanko, Leader's Club; and Bonnie Shetley, dance program.

Students and parents actively participated in the following sports: basketball, free throw, parallel bar walk, soft ball throw, balance beam, broad jump, badminton serve, hockey dribble, rope skipping, golf putting and accuracy. The parents had a good workout.

Mrs. Whitney and Mrs. Hixson, hospitality chairmen, presided over the coffee table in the cafeteria.

Luncheon preceded the business meeting at 1 p.m. at the League Center in Cucamonga. Notice was made of the new lettering on the outside of the building, identifying the League Center. This nameplate was donated by the Assisteens, an auxiliary of the League.

Mrs. Gilbert Extale and Mrs. John Mortensen were commended for their fine efforts in furnishing the Chapter House side of the League Center.

Mrs. Howard Scarborough, chairman, thanked the members for their aid in the successful Golf Tournament which realized $1,700 for the League philanthropies.

Pending Changes In Planning Commission, City Council Prompt Much Speculation

the moment is Zella Stone, who is on the Planning Commission now.

There's a good amount of background of the Stone family in Upland Council matters.

Another frontrunner is Rayburn Anderson of Sunkist, also a member of the Planning Commission. He's a systems and procedures man — which would be a decided asset.

Actually, there are a whole raft of individuals whose names are being tossed into the hopper — whether they even know it or not!

There is Kenneth Hull who had a hand in the last election, along with Mary Scott who has always been active in campaigns.

Then there's George Whitney, former Planning Commission chairman, and deposed SA Water Co. Board member, who isn't particularly happy with that. (Incidentally, one of the political rumors is that Bill Kistinger himself might run again — especially with the backing of the Water Co. which showed such power in the anti-City annual water meeting.)

Wendell Harmon has been advanced as a possible choice.

Most of the young lawyers have been at least mentioned, such as Jack Blair and even partners Herschel Glenn or Harold Lance.

Rosters of the service clubs are being combed these days. The Jaycee list is being given the fine-toothcomb for possible exciting new blood that is untainted by associations.

From the ranks of the Kiwanis Club there might be Richard Price, manager of Security First National Bank, and George Van Tubergen, a Scout Executive, as possibilities. Of course, the above mentioned Anderson is from Kiwanis, as is Glenn.

In the Rotary Club, there is John Towers, who manages the San Antonio Community Hospital and has been on the Chamber of Commerce Board of Directors recently. There also is David Gardner, a downtown Upland insurance man with Empire Co.

The Lions — who have two Councilmen already — might add a third, such as Melvin Fuller, a convalescent hospital administrator, or Merle Cox, a dentist and member of the Chaffey College Board.

The Jaycees — picking out the Uplanders — are offering possible choices for candidates as Ken Teel, a vice president of a private slag company in Fontana; Jim Pshick, a sales representative for Proctor and Gamble; and Ron Bunte, a teacher and assistant principal in the Covina School District.

In general, there is a real buzz on to get someone young enough, independent enough, strong-willed enough, with leadership ability and time to work hard, no special axes to grind or special interests to promote, with the ability to work with four other Councilmen, and the chance to become such a pillar in City affairs in 10 months that he can handily win for himself a first full-fledged term next April to bring more stability to Upland City government.

Do you know anybody like this? Can you add to the list?

P.S. — If this isn't enough to think about — the Planning Commission already needs a new member — and a chairman!

Also, Commissioner Will Mason has indicted he will quit "now that Dan Maher has."

So, if either Mrs. Stone or Anderson is plucked from the Planning Commission for a Council seat, we could have three quick openings on that important planning body.

Stuart G. Wheeler of Claremont traveled for 30 days and 5,700 miles in Turkey taking color slides and making recordings for a travelog to be presented at the meeting of Euclid Avenue Camera Club at 7:30, Friday, in the Chaffey High School Chemistry building.

The show will include pictures taken off the beaten path in Istanbul, Pergaman, Troy, Ephasis, Antalia and Sardis as well as five of the seven churches started by the Apostle Paul.

The 35-mm transparencies will be augmented by taped Turkish background music and spoken dialogue.

Wheeler, who is a citrus grower, business man, and former mayor of Claremont, has visited 68 countries in recent years and has made up travelogs about most of them.

He is primarily interested in the history and way of life of people in other countries. The Turkey pictures were taken during a five-months trip around the world last year.

He and Mrs. Wheeler have just returned from a journey to Mexico, Yucatan and Panama.

Arrangements for the show ing were made by Mrs. Marion Miller, program chairman.

Society Celebrates Tenth Anniversary

Pomona Valley Genealogical Society will celebrate its tenth anniversary with a potluck picnic at San Dimas Park at 4 p.m., Saturday, June 5.

Charter members will be honored, and all present members will sign a parchment in honor of the anniversary.

The Society was first organized in April 1955, when Seaphus W. Curtis and his wife Ethel, having tired of traveling to Los Angeles to do research, called together ten interested friends.

A plan of organization was presented to them along with a constitution and by-laws.

The first board of directors consisted of Seaphus W. Curtis, president; Neil H. Carruthers, first vice-president; Vyondelle Byrd Lee, second vice-president; Faye Byrd Morgan, secretary; Marguerite Carruthers, treasurer; Ethel M. A. Curtis, co-ordinator; Angeline Burgess, membership chairman; Dorothy Johnson, publicity; Norman Lee, chaplain; and Luella Pratt Jones, librarian.

A charter was prepared and on June 2, 1955, a public meeting was held and 52 charter members were accepted. Since then meetings have been held regularly, and at present are being held every other month with the exception of the summer months.

The purpose of the Society is to establish a Genealogical Department in the Pomona Public Library, and to impart and instruct genealogical information.

Membership dues support the Society, and proceeds from bake sales, seminars, and donations are used to purchase books and microfilm which in turn is donated to the Pomona Public Library. These materials are available for use by the public at all times.

The Society is looking forward to larger quarters and better facilities when the new library is finished.

Present officers of the Society are Ethel Curtis, president; J. Ronald Pinkston, first vice-president; Angeline Burgess, second vice-president; Betty Pinkston, secretary; Dorothy Weller, corresponding secretary; Jerry Padley, treasurer; Lenore Smith, membership chairman; Bartley Smith, mailing clerk; Erma Grip, publicity chairman; Mary Walker, a member of the Pomona Library staff, co-ordinator; Richard Bray, Richard L. Staley, and Barbara Cherbak.

Four Actions By Council Affect 210 Vital Acres

area for 90 days. City Mgr. Elwin Alder had estimated that the feasibility study will take "about six weeks."

The Tuesday session actually got off to a good start when Christensen presented a framed certificate of appreciation, signed by Hawkins, to Daniel Maher. After 13 years as a member of the Upland Planning Commission, the last two as its chairman, Maher has resigned due to a residence change out of the City — to nearby San Antonio Heights (see photo, page 1).

Alder reported that the State Division of Highways is preparing to widen each side of the San Bernardino Freeway to three lanes between the Los Angeles County line and Euclid Ave. He said construction will include a corkscrew off-ramp at Euclid into the westbound lanes, thereby eliminating crossover traffic at that point on Euclid, and a change in the current westbound on-ramp to link it directly with 2nd Ave. in Upland.

Though the State already has acquired property for these local changes, Alder explained, it has requested a Council recommendation that bus-loading facilities be placed in the design. The matter was referred to the Street and Light Committee, with power to act before the State deadline of June 15.

Council welcomed the first referral of the newly-created Architectural Review Commission — a recommendation that the Foothill Animal Hospital not be required to provide additional off-street parking spaces because of the need to cover kennels to control odor and noise.

"They want us to put teeth into the recommendation, which is quite appropriate," Rossitter commented. Council then approved it wholeheartedly.

No action was taken Tuesday on the City Manager's $2,448,554 preliminary budget for 1965-66, which was okayed with minor changes after the second half of a two-night budget discussion last Friday. Alder said the final tabulation will be ready for adoption by Council's next regular meeting.

Also Tuesday, the three Councilmen:

* Accepted the low bid ($4,334.50) of Holland Paving Co. of Upland for grading and paving of a parking lot near the kitchen area in Memorial Park (bids ranged to a high of $10,239).

* Went along with the Planning Commission's recommendation in approving David Miller's request for a lot split on the south side of 7th St., 600 feet west of Mountain, where the new Motor Vehicle Building will be constructed.

* Learned from Christensen that groundbreaking ceremonies Aug. 10 near La Canada for Foothill Freeway will be climaxed by a banquet at the Uplander Motor Hotel at which the City will host the Governor or Lieutenant Governor, some of the State Highway Commissioners and representatives of the 18 municipalities along the coming two-county span.

* Named Alder to represent Upland at a July 14 hearing in Pomona City Hall on General Telephone Co.'s application to extend dial-free service and overall rates in this area.

Laubach Council Meets Sunday

Mrs. Regina Todd of Chino will furnish the program for the Inland Laubach Literacy Council at 3 p.m., Sunday, June 6, in the Questers' Room at the First Methodist Church, 918 N. Euclid Ave., Ontario.

Mrs. Todd will demonstrate teaching devices which she has used in teaching English to adults by the Laubach method in the Adult Education Program in the Chino schools.

HOPE SUNDAY is scheduled for June 6, quite obviously, and Mrs. Patricia Beebe, 866 W. Hawthorne St., Ontario, shown holding the special day's symbol, is serving as Ontario-Upland chairman for the one-day drive. Thousands of volunteers will march door-to-door in behalf of the City of Hope, the free, nonsectarian medical center where Mrs. Beebe's daughter, among many others, has received heart surgery.

AGITATION reportedly still exists amongst many Foothill Blvd. merchants in Upland because of two signs which beckon motorists as they drive westward from Cucamonga toward Upland on Foothill. The first (photo, right) — located just east of the curve under the Pacific Electric RR trestle — points toward Baker Ave. but actually "lures" stranaers to San Bernardino Rd., three-tenths of a mile away, the most direct route to downtown area. The second (photo, left) is the "Upland 1" direction sign at San Bernardino Rd. which takes motorists off Foothill and past busy San Antonio Community Hospital. Foothill merchants, who want crack at transient trade, insist City promised to do away with signs and thereby encourage drivers to continue to turnoffs at 2nd, Euclid or San Antonio.

Civic Group Staffing Tables To Sign Voters

June is the month set aside for a Voter's Registration Drive in the City of Upland.

The four major supermarkets will have tables set up with registrars and people to answer any questions on being qualified to register or not. Register on Fridays from noon until 8 p.m. and Saturdays from 9 a.m. until 9 p.m., beginning June 4.

It hurts not to be in the driver's seat and your vote is as good as gold and like money in the bank. If that statement sounded like a commercial, it was intended to . . . not to sell or rent you anything but to tell you of the privilege of being able to cast your own personal vote on any issue of government.

Don't wait for a national election to get registered, think of the next school bond or unification election. It is important to be registered at all times so you are prepared to meet any challenge in your own community.

The Upland Civic Association, sponsor of the drive, extends this invitation to take advantage of the arrangements to put a registrar in your favorite supermart during your week end shopping in June.

Markets participating are A & P, Food Giant, Vons and Alpha Beta. Be sure and register to vote.

GOP Says Dyal's Wheat Vote 'Goes Against The Grain'

The Republican Congressional Committee charged this week that Rep. Ken Dyal's vote to continue the sales of taxpayer-subsidized wheat to Dictators Nasser of Egypt and Sukarno of Indonesia "goes against the grain of Americans everywhere."

The Committee noted that the Congressman voted May 26 against an amendment to the agriculture appropriations bill which would have curbed sales of wheat and other surplus farm commodities under Public Law 480 to those two nations.

"Both Nasser and Sukarno have consistently insulted the United States and mobs in those nations have continually desecrated U.S. property and attacked U.S. personnel," the GOP group said. "Earlier this year, Nasser told the United States to, in effect, 'go jump in the lake,' and Sukarno has told us to take our aid and 'go to hell'.

"Yet, Congressman Dyal cast his vote in the House of Representatives to continue American aid and assistance to these nations. We believe the Congressman's action goes against the grain of Americans everywhere."

Junior High Students View 'The Last Clear Chance'

"The Last Clear Chance," a safety film which deals with hot rod driving and its dramatic effects on the lives of teenagers after an accident, was shown at a special assembly Friday in the Upland Elementary School auditorium.

Detective T. D. Smith of the Upland Police Department and Charles Brady, department head of the Upland High School Driver Training Program, presented an additional half hour of educational talks relating to preparation for safe driving. Brady reviewed the structure of the Driver Education Program at UHS.

Purpose of this combined film and discussion period was to approach the serious subject of safe driving and get the students to THINK as young adults in relation to safe driving practices. Many of this year's class of junior high bicycle riders will be operating motor bikes as freshmen next year.

The program was coordinated with officials of the Upland School Traffic Safety Committee in cooperation with the Upland Police Department.

Edwin Dean is principal of the Upland Junior High School.

The School Traffic Committee of Upland has as advisory members traffic engineers of the Automobile Club of Southern California, members of the Board of Trustees of the Upland School District and members of the Upland City Council's Police-Fire Committee.

Counterinsurgency Name Of The Game

Army PFC LeRoy A. Ruddock, 23, son of Mr. and Mrs. E. A. Ruddock, 855 N. 10th Ave., Upland, took part in Exercise FRONTIER POST I, a major counterinsurgency exercise conducted in the Olympic National Forest in Washington, May 17-28.

During the maneuvers Ruddock learned the techniques of defending areas of land against local insurgent groups.

He entered the Army in March 1964, completed basic training at Fort Ord, and is a driver in Company A, 1st Battalion of the 4th Infantry Division's 12th Infantry, regularly stationed at Fort Lewis, Wash.

Ruddock is a 1959 graduate of Upland High School and was employed at the U. S. Post Office in Upland before entering the Army.

City Sewer System Okay . . . Except For Wagons, Etc.

The City of Upland has an excellent, up-to-date sewage system which is growing as the City expands to the north and west, according to Doc Whitfield, sanitation supervisor. Sewer pipe sizes are quite adequate to handle the waste of the City so long as undue requests are not placed upon them.

"Such things as children's wagons, that have been found in the sewer system, along with window screens and other items, naturally cause stoppages of the sewer line," he said. "In order to help yourselves and neighbors, everyone is cautioned not to allow the below listed items to enter the sewer system through toilets: rags, diapers, Kleenex, paper towels, small children's toys or garbage."

Many of Upland's homes now have dispose-alls in connection with sinks for the handling of household garbage, and these machines shred up the garbage into very fine particles that travel down through the sewer with no problem at all, Whitfield said.

There is a metering station where Upland's sewer lines join Ontario's and carry the waste down to the jointly-owned plant in Ontario. Currently, an average 2,000,000 gallons per day are metered through this station.

Periodically, the Cities of Upland and Ontario adjust the percentages of ownership of this project; Upland currently owns approximately 15 per cent based on the comparative usage of the plant.

Capen Featured Speaker At WETA Installation

Annual installation program of West End Teachers Association was scheduled for 7:30 p.m. Wednesday, June 2, at the French Basque Restaurant in Cucamonga.

Don Rose, Alta Loma School District, was to be installed as president. Warren Beam, Central School District, will serve as vice-president, with Bob Rinehart and Tom Guthrie, both of Alta Loma School District, serving as secretary and treasurer, respectively.

Outgoing officers, headed by Mrs. Muriel Underwood, Cucamonga School District, were to be honored.

Special guests to be honored included Mrs. Ruth Goodman, San Bernardino County Schools, who recently announced her retirement. For more than 30 years, with many of them having primary responsibility in the West End, Mrs. Goodman has aided elementary teachers in the seven school districts which comprise the West End Teachers Association area.

Reservations at press time had passed 65, with many more expected.

Featured speaker was to be Phil Capen, a native of the West End, and presently principal of Alta Loma Junior High School. Capen, outgoing WETA vice president, returned two years ago from more than 24 months in Colombia helping establish a rural educational program. The program was sponsored by the U.S. State Department.

Capen apprcached the Colombian question at the request of the U.S. government after nearly 20 years as superintendent of Daggett School District, east of Barstow in San Bernardino County.

He was to review the prospects for education and the growing menace of communism in Colombia, where some of the more inaccessible parts of the country are under the control of bandits — often believed to have strong Communist links with the Sino-Communist bloc.

30 Chaffey College Coeds Join Dental Ranks Friday

Thirty Chaffey College coeds from 10 communities will receive certificates of completion of the dental assisting program at 8 p.m. Friday, June 4, in the little theater.

Guest speaker will be Dr. Robert C. Borland, chairman of the college's Tri-County Dental Society Advisory Committee, with an address entitled "Modern Day Challenges." This committee makes the arrangements for in-service training for Chaffey collegians.

Graduates and their guests will be welcomed by Mrs. Robert Mellon, chairman of the board of trustees.

Dr. Daniel B. Milliken, president of the college, will award the certificates and Edward Myers, dental assisting coordinator, will present the alumnae pins. Instructors Betty Jean Birdsall and Vesta Stark will conduct the traditional capping ceremony.

The program will be followed by a dental assisting department open house.

This year's dental assisting graduates include:

Upland — Sandra Skinner Crocker, Nancy Frost, Dianne Haney, Judy Hanson, Leanne McKelvey, Patricia Thayer Wingate.

Pre-School School Open House Open

Valley Pre-School, Inc. will hold open house through June 18 for all interested parents and children.

The school is located at 9185 Monte Vista Ave., Montclair, and is open between 9 and 11:30 a.m. Monday through Friday.

The school is a parent participation (or a cooperative) nursery school. It is a non-profit school for children aged two years, nine months to five years, and is directed by a trained teacher.

Parents participate in the school's program by working with the teacher and children in the daily program about one out of four times. The parent also benefits by monthly educational meetings.

For further information and fall registration call Mrs. Robert Kerr, NA 6-7344 or Mrs. David Lowman.

Board Of Trade To Hold Seminar

The San Bernardino County Board of Trade announced this week that it will sponsor a seminar to be held at Apple Valley Inn at 6 p.m. Monday, June 7, to discuss the economic feasibility of constructing moderate-sized convention centers in certain mountain and desert communities in the County.

Several officials who have been connected with such projects in other areas will make presentations and answer questions on the subject, and County legal and administrative officials will also participate in the discussions.

Chamber of Commerce officials and civic leaders from communities interested in such a project have been invited to attend the session.

Accountants Set Annual Shindig

Annual Ladies Night of Pomona Valley Chapter of National Association of Accountants will be celebrated Saturday night at the Dunes Restaurant, Riverside.

Officers and directors for 1965-66 will be installed following a steak dinner, and the evening will be concluded with a floor show and dancing.

Leonard Nylander, director of special activities, promises an evening of delightful surprises for the accountants, ladies and guests.

The largest number of living veterans in the United States are World War II veterans. They number 15 million and average 45.5 years of age, according to the Veterans Administration.

Psychiatrists Name Leaders

At the May 17 meeting of the Inland Chapter (San Bernardino and Riverside Counties) of the Southern California Psychiatric Society, a branch of the American Psychiatric Association, Merriman Hamblin, M. D., of Ontario, was elected secretary-treasurer for a third term.

The secretary-treasurer is now also an associate editor of the Southern California Psychiatric Society Newsletter. Dr. Hamblin is a psychiatrist in practice in Ontario.

Other officers elected were: Robert P. Cook, M. D., Riverside, president; John F. McMullin, M. D., Riverside, president-elect; and John R. Beukema, M. D., Patton, program chairman. They are all psychiatrists.

The Chapter is interested in development of a speaker's bureau, continuing liaison with the County Medical Societies and those committees of societies concerned with mental health, seminars for non-psychiatric physicians, increased community activity in terms of the problem of untrained personnel offering therapy under one label or another.

Neither Rain Nor Sleet . . .

Nor Even Lack Of Airplane Keeps This Postman Down

Give or take a whoop and a holler, Chaffey College is a country mile from Cucamonga as the crow flies.

And nothing slows up the delivery of Cucamonga-franked mail to the college — not even a letter bearing air mail postage.

As a case in point, a Cucamonga resident recently air-mailed a letter to Mrs. Ruth H. Schindler, director of the college's nursing program. The U.S. Post Office in Cucamonga stood firm in it's conviction that a letter with that kind of postage demands special consideration.

Making no apologies for its lack of an airplane or even a trained crow for a carrier, the Cucamonga P.O. rubberstamped the envelope with this message:

"SENT BY SURFACE TO EXPEDITE DELIVERY."

Said gratified Mrs. Schindler:

"Leave it to the postal service in Cucamonga to go that extra mile for the taxpayer — and its all up hill from there to here.

Disabled Veterans Hold Installation

The installing team of the Fontana dug-out of the National Order of Trench Rats will assist Malcolm Huff, past department commander of Arizona, in installing the men.

Over 200 Serrano District Scouts Participate In Old Baldy Camporee

Over 200 Serrano District Boy Scouts, Senior Scouts and leaders participated in the Old Baldy Council's annual Spring Camporee, according to Russell Hazen, Serrano District chairman.

The Wolf Patrol of Troop 642, sponsored by the Alta Loma Improvement Association, was the highest scoring patrol in the Camporee. Patrol leader Rod Stevens was in charge. Other patrols receiving the "presidential ribbon" for earning 1100-110 points included:

The Beavers, led by Scott Porter, and the Vampires, led by Rick Wente, of Troop 601, sponsored by the First Methodist Church of Upland, second place; and the Panthers, led by Bob Hulbert, of Troop 607, sponsored by Sierra Vista PTA, third place.

Twenty-seven other patrols were involved in the competition, which included a 2½-mile pack-in with all food and equipment, camping, cooking, sanitation, Scout spirit and teamwork.Skill event winners were:

Signalling — Ravens, Troop 622, Dave Dacolias, patrol leader; height judging—Eagles, Troop 642, Ron Burks, PL; knots — Flaming Arrows, Troop 642, Scott Powers, PL; physical fitness — Beavers, Troop 641, Steve Bryan, PL; first aid — Eagles, Troop 622, Mike Sherman, PL; and flagpole raising — Wolf, Troop 641.

Dr. Merle Cox of Upland served as Camporee chairman, while the scoring and awards chairman was Frank Stanson, assisted by Rev. Joseph Pippin. David Meyers was head judge over 24 who composed the Camporee judging panel.

Over 150 Serrano Scouts and their leaders now are looking forward to a full week of adventure at the Circle B Scout Ranch this summer.

Jehovah's Witnesses Set Semi-Annual Assembly

Harry C. Good, district supervisor of Jehovah's Witnesses, announced the theme, "Willingly Fulfill Your Ministry," for the semi-annual circuit assembly of Jehovah's Witnesses being held June 4-6 at the Mount San Antonio College stadium.

Good said, "The theme will be stressed by all having a part on the program for the three days. It reflects the belief of Jehovah's Witnesses, world wide, that the only way to not give in to atheistic teachings, especially Communistic atheism, and other total tarianisms and to not be caught in the rising tide of delinquency is to have courageous Christian devotion and firm faith in God's Word the Bible.

"Jehovah's Witnesses are so concerned with this belief that right now we are preparing for a series of larger conventions to be held throughout free Europe and North America this summer. The nearest one for us will be Balboa Stadium, San Diego, July 8-11."

Ralph Tabbert, presiding minister of the host congregation for the conclave, in extending an invitation to all to plan now to attend the assembly, stated, "This will be an excellent opportunity for those readers who have wondered about Jehovah's Witnesses, their beliefs and why they knock on their doors to find out the reason for the increase in the activity of Jehovah's Witnesses. No collections are ever taken and those who attend are never under any obligation.

Elimination Of Problems Before They Exist Is Aim Of Assembly's Preschool, Primary Bills

By JOHN QUIMBY
State Assemblyman
72nd District

A series of bills designed to eliminate learning problems before they start is now before the Assembly.

The legislation has already been approved by the Subcommittee on Compensatory Education, chaired by Assemblyman Leo J. Ryan, and the full Assembly Committee on Education, chaired by Assemblyman Charles B. Garrigus. Assemblyman Garrigus is also author of one of the bills.

Other authors represented in the package are Assembly Speaker Jesse M. Unruh and Assemblymen Mervyn M. Dymally and Willie L. Brown, Jr.

Taken as a whole, the package is a massive assault on the problem of unpreparedness among preschool and primary grade youngsters. Every available source of funds, short of children's allowances, is utilized.

Federal money available under the Anti-Poverty Program and under the recently passed Elementary and Secondary Education Act would be used. The State would match funds with local school districts and provide money for preschool centers directly.

School districts would be given broader authority to initiate preschool programs on their own, and to charge tuition from parents who can afford to pay it.

The bills would increase the number of child care centers operated by school districts and authorize the districts to establish nursery schools. Preschool centers organized on a neighborhood basis would also be authorized with the emphasis placed on helping children from low income and non-English speaking families.

The preschool preparation would be followed up by special afterschool or Saturday classes for poor readers in the primary grades.

In spite of State and Federal participation, the local control of education is preserved. Since participation is voluntary, parents would have the ultimate veto of any program which they feel is unsuitable. Programs would be initiated by communities and school districts subject to minimum standards established by the State Board of Education.

The school dropout usually becomes an expensive burden to his community and to the State. Remedial programs on the high school level are costly and often ineffective.

Developing an early interest in learning will cut down these expenses, but no educational program should be defended solely in financial terms. This program offers hope.

It gives our young citizens the right start toward expanding their capacities as fully as they can. It will reduce the horrible waste in human resources that the school dropout represents.

It is estimated that 85 per cent of traffic injuries and deaths are caused by people being thrown out of their cars, or striking the steering wheel assembly, or the windshield and its frame, or the knobs on the dashboard.

Traffic accident mortality can be greatly reduced by the use of seat belts, and more and more safety-conscious drivers are installing them in their cars.

A bill recently passed by the Assembly Transportation and Commerce Committee will increase the use of seat belts in California. The measure, by Assemblyman James R. Mills of San Diego, would require that any new car sold in the State be equipped with seat belts in both the front and back seats.

The provision of safety belts for passengers is particularly important. Last year there were 2,361 fatal accidents in California. The number of deaths from these accidents totaled 2,877.

In other words, at least 516 deaths occurred among people who were not sitting in the driver's seat.

Car manufacturers now offer safety belts as an "optional extra." Assemblyman Mills' measure recognizes that safety is not in the same category as chrome-plated wheel covers.

Armed with the knowledge that safety belts do save lives, we must see to it that cars are equipped with this life-saving potential. The rest is up to the driver and his passengers.

One of America's proudest heritages is its system of free public libraries. The free access to great and challenging ideas is vital to a people committed to a system of self government.

As the pace of our era quickens, effective use of worktime and leisure time is guaranteed only by a learning process that lasts a lifetime. The public library is the keystone of a free and enlightened society.

The Assembly has passed a bill which will assure the position of the public library in California.

The measure, by Assemblyman Jerome R. Waldie of Antioch, would increase state support of local libraries from the present 2 per cent of total expenses to 10 per cent over a period of five years.

State grants to libraries are distributed on the basis of population density. At present, a library system serving an area with a population density of 100 per square mile receives a grant of 8 cents per resident.

When the population density is 50 or less per square mile, the present grant is 16 cents per resident. Assemblyman Waldie's proposal would boost these per capita grants to a 16-cent minimum, and an 80-cent maximum.

DEDICATION

The Chamber of Commerce is dedicated to the orderly development and betterment of the community.

This includes all phases of community life, civic, commercial, industrial, home and service.

The Chamber is the center, the crystalizing influence of a community. The Chamber is proud to be active and helpful.

THESE ARE THE ACCOMPLISHMENTS OF YOUR 1964-65 UPLAND CHAMBER OF COMMERCE

OUR TRANSITION YEAR –

This past year might be titled "Our transition year". It marked the 1st full year of chamber activity under the direction of a full time chamber manager.

This in itself presented many challenges and opportunities.

As our City grows, so must the Chamber.

Guide lines have been drawn by our Board of Directors to focus full attention on an expanded Chamber, which will serve the needs of a well rounded community.

DWIGHT E. BERT,
President

OUR GUIDE LINES –

Having the Chamber of Commerce represent the whole business community as its central agency is our primary goal for the year.

The duty of an effective Chamber is to corral the force of the community for its improvement and development — in business, in industry, and in the professions.

Together, the Chamber does what no one person can do by himself, but it has to be together first to accomplish its goals.

TONY MALONE, Manager

INDUSTRIAL POLICY
As a cornerstone of official city and chamber policy, both organizations worked out an industrial policy statement in favor of doing the utmost to attract industry to Upland and to keep it prosperous and happy once it was here.

DOWNTOWN MODERNIZATION
The Chamber fostered and participated in the meetings and interest to develop a modern atmosphere in downtown Upland. The program to improve and brighten up Upland has been pursued regularly and with vigor by the Chamber.

ANNUAL MEETING
Highly successful was the annual meeting of the Chamber in which people from every part of Upland came to attend. The annual meeting crystalized the essential cooperation that is needed by everyone to make both the Chamber and the City work successfully and harmoniously.

DOWNTOWN PARKING DISTRICT
Extension of the parking district in downtown Upland Shopping Center especially to include new areas in the developmental program, was espoused by the Chamber which recognized the vital necessity of adequate transportation facilities for commercial enterprises.

NEW MAPS
Brand new maps, with up-to-date streets, were printed for the Chamber and the many people who come in for maps. Regular city maps and special zoning maps were printed by the Chamber's efforts.

FAIR EXHIBIT
Cooperation with the Junior Chamber of Commerce was smoothly handled in preparing the exhibit for the Los Angeles County Fair last Fall. The Jaycee-Chamber exhibit won a second place award in its category, not only bring funds to the two organizations, but also exposing "Upland" to many thousands of people visiting the Fair.

BROCHURES OF UPLAND
New brochures telling of the delightful advantages of living in Upland were printed and distributed by the Chamber during the year.

HISTORY OF UPLAND
A written history of Upland was prepared for distribution to those who needed and wanted background information about the City.

CABLE AIRPORT SUPPORT
Understanding that the private airport was one of the fine assets of Upland, the Chamber participated in aviation activities, including surveys of merchants and businessmen by mailing 500 letters out.

UPLAND BASEBALL CHAMPS
A special luncheon was given by the Chamber in honor of World Champs, those youngsters who represented Upland on the baseball playing fields across the nation.

CIVIC CENTER DEVELOPMENT
Chamber backing for the proposed new Civic Center facilities have been considered essential to a modern, up-and-coming community.

DODGER NITE
The Chamber co-sponsored a Dodger baseball night last summer so citizens could attend enmass to see their favorites on the ball diamond.

SANTA AND THE TREES
Christmas trees for decorations were placed in the downtown area during the holiday season. A program of having Santa meet the children was undertaken.

HELISTOP SUPPORT
Chamber support was given toward obtaining a Helistop at San Antonio Community Hospital.

OUR TRANSITION PERIOD PASSES

During the past year, the Chamber of Commerce has undergone the "shakedown" phase of its reorganization with a fulltime manage.

A. A new agreement with the City of Upland has been negotiated which will bring peace of mind, stability, and more realistic relationship between the City and the Chamber.

B. A new manager, Tony Malone now is in charge of the Chamber's activities and offices. A veteran of the area, with extensive background in community activities, the new manager is realistically tackling the problems facing the Chamber, and the community.

C. A dues structure that is consistent and stable has been adopted that will bring the required funds into the organization.

D. A down-to-earth approach to membership, with equal emphasis on businesses being equal members no matter where they are located has been re-emphasized in pointed fashion to build a solid Chamber for all.

With these fundamental problems solved by major policy decisions, the Chamber in 1964-65, accomplished much in what proved to be a "transition" stage in the orderly development and growth of the organization.

Dedicated To Building A Bigger And Better Community In Which To Work, Live And Relax

Thursday, June 3, 1965

257 E. 9th St., Upland, Calif. — YUkon 2-1385

AN EDITORIAL

Civic Center Optimism High After Citizens' Group Vote

Almost five months ago, shortly after the Upland City Council had designated a downtown site and chosen a general obligation bonds method of financing our proposed CIVIC AND COMMUNITY CENTER, it was considered an excellent time by THE NEWS to detail our vision of what we described as "a practical and inspirational project" for the future.

Readers may recall that we pointed out that Upland was faced with the OPPORTUNITY OF A LIFETIME. After praising Council for its site decision and noting that the City could look forward to upgrading picturesque Euclid Avenue and, in turn, having Euclid upgrade the Civic Center, we urged development of a CREATIVE BOND ISSUE.

Last week, at the second meeting of the recently-established Citizens' Civic Center Committee, we were delighted when Councilman Ronald Rossitter referred to THE NEWS' concept as "a helpful and interesting plan." Further, we were especially pleased when it was revealed that Planning Specialist Ted Adsit's preliminary recommendations reflect a CIVIC CENTER ZONE around the basic two-square-block area, as first suggested by us.

The 33-member Citizens' Committee, composed wisely — if unwieldly — of representatives of every imaginable civic group as well as dissident element — finally voted 15-0 last week (there were five abstentions and 13 absentees) in enthusiastic support of Council's designated site, fronting on Euclid between D Street and a line 150 feet south of Arrow Highway.

This UNOPPOSED SHOW OF STRENGTH was significant for several reasons. For one, the lengthy discussion before the vote was sparked by Councilman Rossitter, who voiced his spirited conversion to the Euclid frontage site after having opposed it in earlier Council sessions. For another, the motion calling for endorsement of the site was put off until all questions about it had been answered.

As a result of this sudden emergence of SOLIDARITY AND COHESIVENESS on the part of the Citizens' Committee, we have a good feeling that substantial progress will be realized during the summer months ahead and a sound Civic Center bond election will be placed before Upland's taxpayers in the fall. We also have new hope that it will deserve the "yeas" of more than the required two-thirds majority at the polls.

A GREAT DEAL OF THOUGHT already has gone into plans for a 63-acre "area of influence," with the Civic and Community Center at its hub. THE NEWS labeled its Civic Center Zone around the hub as a "safety valve" commercial and professional area for "additional revenue" in years to come. Adsit has designated it his PLAN DEVELOPMENT ZONE, and he will delve into it for the Citizens' Committee's benefit next Monday night.

Whatever it is called, this area holds the key to Upland's future success as a prosperous community. Properly zoned, it will attract PRIVATE ENTERPRISE MONEY, much of which is just waiting for investment in prime office building space. With our newly-organized Architectural Review Commission to guide its destiny, there's no reason why it shouldn't develop with balance and style.

Critics of the downtown site still contend an estimated $370,000 is too much to pay for the 2.15 acres needed to go with land now owned by the City in order to total 3.91 acres for the Civic Center. But we are advised by experts that the second-choice site would cost virtually the same amount, and anyway we don't think the prestige value of Euclid frontage to the City can be measured accurately in mere dollars.

As part of our practical-inspirational projection of last January, THE NEWS envisioned "Culture" features of an all-around Civic Center. We have since been impressed by strides taken for establishment of the CHAFFEY COMMUNITIES CULTURAL CENTER on 18th Street and by consultant assurances that the City will have its hands full in providing essential municipal features at the outset, so we will not press for "Culture" right now.

We would ask, however, that long-range plans not overlook the possibility of a Civic Center Auditorium and Arts Pavilion and Recreation Hall in close conjunction with the Upland Public Library. We would also urge that Adsit and the Citizens' Commitetee continue to incorporate in their CREATIVE APPROACH such healthy features as a separate Courts Building and a new Post Office within the Plan Development Zone.

The Citizens' Civic Center Committee should spend a progressive summer formulating terms for the bond election which Councilman George Gibson, its chairman, has described as "the most significant thing in our time in Upland."

FROSTING ON THE CAKE — To top off their school year of giving volunteer hours to worthy community projects, members of the Interact Club joined on May 22 with members of the Upland Rotary Club, sponsor of Interact, to remove "unsightly and unnecessary" litter from San Antonio Creek, the otherwise picturesque picnic spot just below Mt. Baldy Village. They collected and hauled away three pick-up truckloads of bottles, cans, paper and other debris. Pictured on the job are (left to right, on ground) Dan Horak (winner of a $100 Rotary award May 19 for outstanding senior member of Interact), Dave Nelson (with friend), Charles Althouse, Bob Walline Jr., Rotary president Fred Mack, Interact president Dennis Pound, Mike Horak, Ted Lyman and Robert Walline Sr. and (left to right, on truck) Rick Mack, Ross Garner, Richard Garner, Harvey Shirk, John Walline and Bill Shirk.

OFF BEAT

With Ace Bushnell

Surprising as it may seem to some (perhaps many), my stock as an Uplander has shot UP since I opened my big typewriter and let loose with "Why is UPland DOWN?" in this space two issues ago.

That verbal barrage has generated more reaction than any column I've concocted since invading the local scene, and this current "Off Beat" is No. 30. What's more, my creative services now are so in demand that I'm in charge of Lions Club luncheon programs for the month of June and I'm a full-fledged member of the public relations committee of the West End Mental Hygiene Association.

All of which doesn't mean that reaction was all-good. Not by a longshot. One anonymous caller wanted to know if I was suggesting "another Hollywood here" and if I wanted the natives to go around greeting each other as "COMRADE." A member of the League of the League of Women Voters, though happy that I'd lauded her chapter, asked if it was necessary "to punch Upland in the nose so hard."

As recorded last week in "Mailbox," one reader felt that Upland's esprit de corps is okay, but the City Hall crew isn't. He shuddered at the thought of everyone painting his home the same color as those next to his. I don't advocate such conformity, of course — I'd even recommend an occasional glass house, except for the stone-throwing that's going on.

Humbly, I must confess that most of the remarks addressed to me were highly favorable ones. "Boy, I heard a lot of good comments about your column," an enthusiastic Chamber of Commerce leader confided. "Most of the people asked me not to tell you, but they liked it."

What pleased me particularly about the widespread reaction was the fact that an appreciable number of long-time Upland residents spoke heartwarmingly of my critical words. They said they considered my six-month summation a shot-in-the-arm rather than a shot-in-the-back.

Publisher Mel Hodell found the column "interesting"—a point he chose to make via marginal note, not bank note. He advised me, however, that the monkey was now on my back, that I owed it to the readership to produce some antidotes for the Upland ills I had detected.

Apparently I failed to make myself clear when I stressed in that very same piece two weeks back that I'm no psychiatrist with answers to the questions posed. Or maybe Mel believes I'm a licensed practitioner, now that I'm on the WEMHA couch.

At any rate, just since publication of that historic "Off Beat," I've noticed an upbeat in the Upland tempo. I don't claim any credit for the pleasant change in tune, but I certainly hope the melody lingers on.

The past fortnight has seen the Citizens' Civic Center Committee take a vital step in the right direction (see editorial, this page). The Chamber has sponsored an encouraging membership breakfast, with a hopeful annual banquet on tap this Thursday night. Council has been hammering away on a most realistic budget, with a special appropriation included for City image-building, and has come up with a promising master plan for Memorial Park. A fund-raising campaign for the Chaffey Communities Cultural Center has moved along at a profitable clip.

I don't pretend to insinuate that we are experiencing a springtime rebirth of that good, old-fashioned community harmony. I mean only that things seem to be looking up, that a prideful esprit de corps could indeed be instilled in Upland's vintage bones.

Specifically, I would like to see the downtown doldrums replaced by a sea of merchant-property owner activity, complementing the proposed Civic Center growth. This group must get off the dime and spend a few bucks. It must realize the urgency of a fresh look and the expansion of its "face" to beautiful Euclid Ave.

In connection with the downtown revitalization, I would like to be able to shop at a first-class men's shop and eat at a crackerjack restaurant. Without "going Hollywood," the latter could attract businessmen at lunchtime and others at dinnertime by latching onto a liquor license (hush, hush . . . sweet Ace).

The proposed "compromise" between area residents interested in a municipal golf course and airport investors interested in an industrial park could enhance the northwest quadrant. Two new, major shopping centers along Foothill Blvd. could result in landscaping and other improvements there. And more and more newcomers active in more and more local affairs could help the overall picture.

This newspaper could play an important role in beating the esprit de corps drum, too—by publishing on a twice-a-week basis to keep the public better and more currently informed (advertisers and M. Hodell, please note). Can you imagine "Off Beat" every Wednesday AND Saturday?

From The Mailbox

'CABLE TOWN'
To The Editor:

It was with great regret that I read your editorial on a compromise betwen a golf course and Cable's Industrial Park. I think the City Council should be commended for making a decision that is agreeable to the overwhelming majority of people who reside within the City limits.

In reading the editorial, I feel the newspaper chastised the legitimate decision on zoning, questioned the economic gains afforded by a golf course, encouraged speculative venture, implied that the County forces should rule, made an unfounded statement that golf courses only hold land until a higher value use can be obtained and insinuated that possibly Upland should change its name to Cable Town.

The editorial could have presented the people with why the Planning Commission recommended light industry zoning in view of the many protests from grove and property owners. Why didn't the Planning Commission consider a golf course for this area when the subject was placed before them?

After this injustice and complete disregard of the requests of the residents of Upland, it became necessary to hold meetings and arrive at a sound decision as to the best possible use for the area in question. These meetings were not secret, as so described in the paper, as the first meeting was attended by Messrs. Roger Cable and Phil Argo of the Welch Development Company. The arrangement of the second meeting was made at this first meeting and was held in broad daylight in an open area easily viewed and heard from 15th St.

I think the newspaper should gather more facts as to why the Council was in agreement with the golf course as opposed to light industry and that this should come directly from Council members and not an assumption made as to why they voted as they did.

Your encouraging the speculative venture of air-oriented industry sounds merely like a sign of sympathy for the Cable enterprise. I still ask, what does the City of Upland owe Cable Airport? Just what is this elusive thing that Cable has offered, since he has failed to provide the name of one light manufacturer that has agreed to move into our city? To date, I have never received a sound justification for an answer.

Cable Airport could well afford to show Upland its interest by starting to develop its own property with a motel, restaurant, modern hangars, landscaped grounds and features that will attract people to this area. Ask yourself if this airport is representative with the "big talk" about the beautiful air-oriented industrial center?

The City of Upland cannot afford to wait 10 to 15 years to see if this dream will produce a 50-million dollar industrial center.

The City has been presented with an alternate plan, economically sound, compatible with both airport and residential areas, another point of beauty for the City and a wonderful way to attract people to the City of Upland.

If the City is able to construct a golf course (after the feasibility study) on this site, my prediction is that more people will fly in to Upland to play golf than would fly in to conduct business at the proposed industrial center.

Frank L. Buck
1266 Rodeo Ct.
Upland

(Ed. note — Reader Buck has inferred a great deal more than our editorial stated, just as he has assumed "the overwhelming majority of people" agrees with the idea of establishing a municipal golf course in his backyard. By "secret" gatherings, we didn't mean the Cables were unaware of them — we meant the press primarily and the general public secondarily were not informed of sessions which led to the calling of a "special" meeting and a "surprise" recommendation by the Park and Recreation Committee. THE NEWS isn't opposed to a golf course, but we believe its "economic gains" shouldn't be trumpeted until the feasibility study has been made.)

IMAGE-LOWERING?
To The Editor:

In regard to your editorial on May 27, you do not sound much like a resident of Upland, but more like a relative of Cable.

There is no valid reason why the City of Upland needs an industrial area north of Foothill except for the private interests of Mr. Cable. And it would definitely lower the image the City has built.

You mentioned "secret" gathering by the property owners. For your information, a Mr. Cable attended this meeting and he stated a golf course was all right with him.

And you want your readers to believe that young Mr. Cable did not inform Dewey Cable?

W. H. Abbott
1248 Coronado St.
Upland

(Ed. note — THE NEWS' use of the word "secret" is explained above. We should add that we had no intention of intimating that Dewey Cable did not realize son Roger attended one such gathering. He was thankful his interests could be represented, but he was shocked later when City Council acted against his interests — before recent "compromise" sessions were instituted by the City.)

FREEWAY CIVIC CENTER
Dear Senator Kuchel:

I am a resident of a small community, Upland, California, as well as managing a local business establishment located in Upland. My problem is taxes.

Our local City government has decided to aid the Johnson poverty program; let's spend more money. Their latest program is to erect a tremendous City Civic Center, a project needed but not thought out.

Their choice of location is downtown Upland, prime land cost for construction. A little matter not mentioned is who owns the adjoining land that would increase considerably, but a few on the Council would blush if asked why they are pushing so diligently.

I would like to suggest the possibility of constructing such a fabulous structure in the government-owned air space over our local freeway, US10. Then we have no personal property holders to profit at least on two sides.

In the past two or three years various governmental buildings, courts, jails, county and state as well as Federal buildings have been erected locally, all have had tremendous land acquisition costs, all are near present freeways, all could have been constructed over the sunken Freeway at a very substantial savings to the taxpayers.

Would you please advise me as well as the three newspapers listed below any legal obstacles presently on our statute books against utilizing air space above freeways, not only in Upland but in all of the United States?

There are surely other city governments across the land such as we have and the savings across our nation could help us all.

Any information or assistance you may render would be appreciated.

PLAUDITS FOR POLICE
To The Editor:

Attorney Robert J. Bierschbach, chairman of Law Day for San Bernardino County's Bar Association, is to be commended for setting aside May 1 as Law Day U.S.A.

In agreement with Mr. Bierschbach's objectives for Law Day, we urge every citizen to support our local police and law enforcement officers everywhere, helping them to maintain law and order by our individual cooperation.

Officers of the law constantly run up against all of the dirty tactics of the Communists and of the dupes and allies of the Communists in their respective areas.

For this reason there has been a subtle, but now increasingly bolder and more extensive effort to harass and discredit police officers everywhere.

This support of our local police by all good citizens is going to become especially important now that Communist-inspired racial riots are getting to be a regular part of the American scene. The police will be criticized by the liberal in the press and over the airwaves, for practically everything they do in line of duty and this will be true no matter how circumspectly they handle themselves, nor with what careful restraint they use their authority, in connection with every large or small outbreak of civil disobedience which the Communist plotters can produce.

In our John Birch Society Bulletin for March 1965 is reprinted J. Edgar Hoover's speech from the F.B.I. Law Enforcement Bulletin, January, 1965 in which Mr. Hoover states, "Law enforcement, by the very nature of its responsibilities, has always been a handy scapegoat for those who resent law and order and those who seek public sympathy on controversial issues. As a frontline representative of government, law enforcement often bears the brunt of criticism — just or uniust — leveled at constituted authority."

Following are a few suggestions in helping to maintain constitutional law and order:

1. Oppose continuance or establishment of Police Review Boards.
2. When you come across questionable criticism of your local police by someone, find out the true facts.
3. If you find criticism of police to have been unjustified, write and put the record straight.
4. Give the police your full cooperation at all times and, if possible, give them your assistance in helping to maintain law and order.
5. Remember the police are the protectors of our lives and property. Give them a vote of confidence by thanking them personally for a job well done.

PUC Hands Truck Owner $1,000 Fine

The California Public Utilities Commission reported this past week that it has fined S. P. Kennedy, an independent for-hire truck operator of 1660 W. 9th St., Upland, $1,000 for charging less than lawful minimum rates. The fine must be paid by June 29.

The Commission found after public hearing that Kennedy assessed rates which resulted in undercharges totaling $8,3.17, which he was ordered to collect, for transporting hay in 1963.

He was ordered to review his records back to May 1, 1963, to determine if other undercharges had occurred and to take legal action if necessary to collect any that might be discovered.

Minimum rates are set by the Commission according to State law to prevent discriminatory charges for hauling, to stabilize the for-hire trucking industry and to assure the public adequate and dependable service.

A Warning From J. Edgar Hoover

Communists Contrive 'Diabolical Scheme' To Undermine Foreign Policy At Home

(Ed. note — Because of the importance of the subject matter, the following is reprinted from the FBI Law Rnforcement Bulletin of June, 1965).

AMERICA TODAY IS ENGAGED in a deadly struggle for the survival of the free world. While our Nation is fending off the strangling grip of international communism on foreign soil, attempts are being made at home to undermine and distort its actions.

Tremendous pressure and criticism are being leveled against the President and the Congress to confuse and mislead the American public. Irresponsible charges of "invaders," "brutal aggression," and "sneak attacks" are used to discredit our Government in hopes it will be forced to abandon its role as defender of freedom.

Some of this protest comes from legitimate peace groups and others who are opposed to the course of action being followed in Viet Nam and the Dominican Republic. However, much of the agitation is part of a diabolical scheme contrived by the Communist Party, USA (CPUSA), an integral arm of the international Communist conspiracy, the materialistic, godless ideology dedicated to ruling the world.

The CPUSA and other Communist groups are seizing this opportunity to advance their cause by false statements and half truths. Particularly, the Party is seeking to influence the youth of our country through the Communist-controlled W. E. B. DuBois Clubs and similar organizations.

The CPUSA encouraged and endorsed the student march on the Nation's Capital on April 17, 1965, protesting United States intervention in Viet Nam. Although not in actual control of this demonstration, the Communists participated in the march and distributed copies of "The Worker," an east coast Communist newspaper.

Communist marchers from all over the country were present, and Communist leaders claimed a major role in the demonstration.

This is a typical example of the Party's widespread campaign to influence our country's foreign policies. The strategy is not new, but it is effective.

The Party is working through non-Communist groups and front organizations to embarrass our Government and disrupt its efforts. Communist leaders are striving to initiate other marchers and demonstrations to keep their campaign of fear and terror rolling.

We can expect that the Party will push for some type of nationwide action similar to "peace" strikes or work stoppages to emphasize their aims. These are methods which have served Communist causes so well since the days of Lenin.

Party leaders hope, of course, that more and more Americans will be duped and misled by these tactics. They envision a commanding wave of hostility against American policies abroad.

The goal is to incite citizens to the point that they will demand American forces be withdrawn from Viet Nam and other places, allowing international communism to take over and engulf more defenseles countries.

Fortunately, the strength and greatness of our Nation lie in its millions of patriotic and loyal citizens — Americans who will not swallow the Red bait of the cunning Communist emissaries; Americans who will rally behind our Government leaders at thiscrucial time; and Americans who are still proud to state, "I was born an American; ;I live an American; I shall die an American."

No Place Like Home . . . For Registration

Q: I live in Upland but I work in Pomona and I find it easier to register and vote in that town. There really isn't anything wrong with that, is there?

A: Yes, it is unlawful. If a man has a family fixed in one place, and he does his business in another, the former is his place of residence because a person does not gain a residence in any precinct into which he comes for temporary purposes (working or managing his own business) without the intention of making that precinct his home.

Typing Expert Inspires ALHS Pupils, Staff

The author of the most widely used typewriting textbook in the country was a day-long guest of the business education department of Alta Loma High School recently.

Dr. Lawrence A. Erickson, professor of education at UCIA, and co-author of "Twentieth Century Typewriting," visited classes, and then held an informal teacher workshop after school.

Dr. Erickson's visit was arranged by Androw J. Malahan, department chairman, who became acquainted with him at business education study meetings and state and national business education conventions.

Dr. Erickson has just completed a study of teaching standards in schools throughout the country, and classified the business department of Alta Loma High School as "one of the finest I have seen, with exceptionally high standards." He expressed a desire to work with the ALHS business teachers in a series of experimental classes utilizing different teaching techniques.

He told the teachers, "Be excited about the subject you teach! No one can teach typing sitting at a desk!"

He has done cost studies and research for business organizations and has completed research projects on methods of teaching typewriting in both elementary and high schools. Dr. Erickson is now a visiting professor at Columbia University, and is the author of a number of articles on the subject of typewriting.

Dead Language Comes Alive At UHS Roman Banquet

Food fit for the gods was the order of the evening May 22 at the Upland High School cafeteria. The fifth annual Roman Banquet was held at that time, the purpose being to interest students who are taking Latin and to honor outstanding Latin students.

The setting was built around the underworld kingdom of Pluto and his wife, Proserpina. The head table had such distinguished guests as all fourth-year Latin students, Mrs. Sybil Smith and Dr. Robert Palmer.

Others were host Pluto, Tom Orum; hostess Proserpina, Donna Jackson; Tricliniarch, Ed Orum; Cacilin, Jeff Weber; High Priestess, Nina Rossitter; Aeneas, John Rhenbarger.

Cathy Kermer, Kathy Kirkland, Ester Hastings, Mary Mitchell, Ann Turner, Mary Lou Shirk, Susie Clapp, Claudia Groshong, Sally Leatherman and Janice Parker, fourth-year students, also graced the head table.

Freshmen students acted as slaves, and the third and fourth-year students planned the entertainment — singing and dancing — and participated in these events.

Miss Jackson served as student chairman of the project and did a tremendous job of working out the details of the evening.

A special feature of the night was the special award made for her continuous efforts to to Mrs. Smith, Latin teacher, make the dead language live.

'65 Staff Waits, '66 Staff Works

Make-up and sales all completed, the staff of the Hielan, Upland High School's yearbook, is now anxiously awaiting the final shipment of the books from the publishing plant in Ventura.

All is not quiet in the staff room, however, for plans for next year's volume are already well underway. Cover designs, theme and general division layouts are now taking the time of a busy and capable staff.

The new editor for the book is Miss Mary Hastings and she has put the present members of next year's staff to work on general plans for "the masterpiece" which she hopes to produce.

"Nothing definite has been decided as yet," she said, "but ideas are beginning to jell, and it looks as though next year will be one of the most productive that has ever been on the Upland High campus."

Students 'Salute' Upland High Staff

"For the efforts of all of you on our behalf, we, the students at Upland High School, salute you."

With these words from ASB President Bob Lindboe, the Student Council-planned faculty appreciation banquet for the faculty and the staff of Upland High School came to a close last Thursday in the school cafeteria.

Feeling that all too often the dedicated efforts of the staff of the high school are passed by without due recognition of the time and effort put into extra details, activities and plans, the Council decided that for one night at least the faculty and staff who have made this one of the best years at UHS would be treated as royalty.

A fine meal was arranged and served by the service clubs on campus, and entertainment by Miss Alice Shelton provided music for a background of the meal.

Plaques of recognition were given to various teachers and staff members for their continued support of the student activities program.

Mrs. Jean Porter and Lloyd Shugart were awarded plaques representing the efforts of the classified staff. Joe Jennings was selected by the Council as the most deserving of the club advisers, and Calvin French as the most deserving of the non-club advisers.

A special plaque was awarded the science department for its continued participation in students activities during the year. Bill Wolfe, student activities director, also was honored with a plaque.

According To Nisbet . . .

Campus 'Free Speech' Troubles Bring Rapid Legislative Moves

By EUGENE NISBET
State Senator
San Bernardino County

Legislative reaction to the troubles about free speech into which the University of California has fallen has been expressed in a number of varied bills and resolutions. One important, though controversial Assembly measure, passed the Senate recently, and is now on its way to the Governor's desk.

The measure, co-authored by 33 of the 80 Assembly members and by three Senators, would give University and State College officials authority to order potential disturbers who are not connected with the institutions to leave the campuses.

Since the bill carries an "urgency clause" it would go into effect as soon as signed by the Governor. It passed the Senate by a vote of 27 to 9, thus securing the two-thirds vote necessary to make the urgency clause effective.

In the form in which it reached the Senate floor for final action, the bill would permit a University or College official to eject from the campus any outsider when it "reasonably appears" that the individual is committing or intends to commit any act likely to interfere with the peaceful conduct of campus affairs. Failure to leave upon order would be a misdemeanor, punishable by imprisonment or fine.

During the floor debate, a vigorous effort was made to tone it down by amendments which would have limited the authority granted by it to outsiders who actually broke either the law or institutional regulations.

Proponents of the amendments argued that pushing people around just because of what the official thinks they might do would bring us close to the police state. However, this line of attack was countered by the assertion that enactment of the bill in its "tough" form would be the only way to control radical demonstrators, some of them Communist-inspired, who say in advance that they will cause trouble. When brought to a vote the proposed amendments lost, 14 to 22.

Many Senators took advan-tage of the opportunity granted by the debate to criticize both University administrators and leaders of the Free Speech Movement for their respective actions during the mass demonstrations at the Berkeley campus last fall.

Several references were made to an FBI report, released just before action of our Senate on the bill, that 43 persons with "known subversive backgrounds" took part in the demonstrations. Five faculty members were included in this number, according to the report.

The FBI concluded that while the demonstrations were not started or led by the Communists, they were exploited by party members for their own ends.

As passed by the Senate, the provisions of the bill could be applied to any person other than a student, teacher, University or College official or employee, or a person with legitimate business on campus. It would, of course, apply to former students not currently enrolled in classes.

At the time of the mass arrests which climaxed the demonstrations, the Speaker of the Assembly suggested the need for a legislative investigation of the University's free speech problem. As an ex-officio Regent, his suggestion carried great weight.

A measure calling for such a study was introduced, but was not given much chance until a report, ordered and paid for by the Board of Regents, was recently released which blasted the Regents for interference in University affairs. The measure is now given a good chance.

Let The Good Times . . . Roll!

Young West End Singer Forming Musical Troupe

Organization of the West End Musical Drama Company was announced this week by Stefan Petroff, young Alta Loma baritone.

An audition for prospective singing performers will be held at Alta Loma High School from 1:30 to 4 p.m. Saturday, June 12. Interested persons are asked to contact Petroff in advance by phoning him at 987-2730, or writing to him at P.O. Box 153, Alta Loma. Previous stage experience is not essential.

The drama company, which will operate as a non-profit organization, will begin presentation of operatic and musical comedy programs in this area during the coming year. It is anticipated that a major operatic production will be presented as a part of the 1965-66 season of the West End Symphony Orchestra.

Petroff has been conferring with Jay Dietzer, orchestra conductor, and preparations already are being made to stage portions of the operas "La Boheme", "La Traviata" and "Rigoletto".

Future activity is expected to include production of musical comedies such as "Oklahoma" and "Guys and Dolls".

Petroff is a vocalist with extensive experience who lately has been appearing frequently before social and civic groups in the West End. He also teaches singing and maintains a studio in the family home at 5407 Hermosa Ave., Alta Loma.

Colella Named United Fund Drive Head

Frank Colella, manager of the Bank of America branch at 4th and Mountain, Ontario, has been appointed campaign chairman for the 1965-66 West End United Fund. The appointment was made by Charles L. Milhiser who is the 1965 president of the United Fund.

Outlining the campaign chairman's responsibilities, Milhiser said it will be Colella's challenge to organize a team of over 400 civic and business leaders and to guide their efforts in raising more than $230,000 in the fall drive. There are 27 member agencies of the United Fund.

Colella is a past president of the Association of Commerce and Industry and a member of Ontario Kiwanis. He is married and lives at 413 W. Alpine St., Upland.

Kaiser Plan Nets Big Sum

April results of the Kaiser Steel — United Steelworkers Long Range Sharing Plan show $339,331, equivalent to 41 cents per hour worked, to be shared by 5,506 participants at the company's Fontana steel mill, it was announced this past week by company and union officials.

The April employees' share of $339,331, highest since August, 1964, continued the upward trend of Sharing Plan earnings during 1965, showing a gain of $60,000 over March earnings, and a boost of $87,000 over February.

The total is divided into a cash distribution of $157,337, or 19 cents per hour worked, and a Wage and Benefit Reserve allotment of $181,994, or 22 cents per hour worked.

Cost performance at the Fontana plant during April generally maintained first quarter 1965 averages, though several negative factors, including excessive utilities and fuel charges, helped hold earnings down.

IT LOOKS JUST FINE — Mrs. Isabel Whitney, treasurer of the Euclid Avenue Chapter of the San Bernardino County Museum Association, points happily to artifacts display in window of Atwood's Department Store. Appreciative companion is the firm's Ted Atwood.

Museum Chapter Sponsoring Exhibit

Cogged Stone Makes Interesting Display, But Why Did The Indians Cog It?

Artifacts of early San Bernardino County cultures are on display in an Upland store window.

The display at Atwood's Department Store is sponsored by the Euclid Avenue Chapter of the San Bernardino County Museum Association as a feature of its $25,000 fund-raising rrive for a West End museum and cultural center.

The artifacts, on loan from the San Bernardino County Museum, were made available by Robert Walline, county museum commissioner.

Featured in the display are Indian tools from Rancho Cucamonga, now known as Cucamonga, Etiwanda, Ontario and Upland.

Most of the tools have been discovered in Cucamonga and around the site of the present Alta Loma High School where the Indians, mostly Shoshone, gathered to hold their annual mourning ceremonial in honor of those who had died during the year. At the ceremonial, sacrifices of their finest baskets and featherwork were offered in fire.

One item on display, a cogged stone, is a mystery to everyone, according to Dr. Gerald Smith, county museum director. Many have studied the stone and written about it, but no one has come up with a satisfactory use for it, Dr. Smith said.

The cogged stone is round, usually with a hole in the center, and has notches around its edges. It looks like a crude gear from a machine.

Also featured in the window display are tools which are believed to have been made by Ice Age man. These tools recently were unearthed at an archeological dig near Barstow being conducted by the county museum under a grant from the National Georgraphic Society.

These tools may predate any other trace of man found in the United States, Dr. Smith said. The tools are suggestive of the ones found in Europe, Africa, India and Java which were made before the last glacial period of the Pleistocene Age, more than 40,000 years ago.

A cutting edge has been made on these tools by meticulous chipping along one or two edges. The implements were theoretically used, not to kill, but to butcher Pleistocene animals — camels, mammoth and horses which roamed the lush grasslands of the now arid desert.

The display will remain at Atwood's through Friday, June 4, when it will be moved to a store window in another West End community.

Chaffey College Graduates Largest Class In June

Chaffey College has reported that it will graduate the largest class in 48 years in mid-June ceremonies in the outdoor theater at the campus center.

The Class of 1965, numbering 400 candidates for the AA degree, will participate in the baccalaureate service at 7 p.m., Sunday, June 13, and the commencement program at 6 p.m., Friday, June 18. Both events are open to the public.

In the Chaffey commencement tradition, certificates of merit will be presented to community leaders for their contributions in the field of education.

Lifetime membership in Alpha Gamma Sigma will be awarded to qualified Chaffey College students by college director Rex W. Wignall.

The commencement address, "The Key," will be given by William E. Walk, Jr., prominent West End attorney and former president of the Ontario School district board of trustees.

Among his other community roles, Walk is active in the San Antonio Community Hospital board of advisers and a trustee of the Visiting Nurses Association of San Bernardino and Riverside counties.

Student speaker representing the Class of 1965 will be Allen Dean Palmer.

Mrs. Georgia W. Mellon, board chairman, will award diplomas, following the presentation of candidates by class president George E. Schucard and acceptance by college president, Dr. Daniel B. Millikan.

The commencement invocation will be conducted by Rev. Paul I. Hershey of the Fontana Methodist Church, and benediction by Rev. John D. Harrison, St. Mark's Episcopal Church, Upland.

In the earlier baccalaureate service, Dr. Gloster S. Udy, Upland Methodist Church, will offer the sermon, "A Source of Strength for Tomorrow," and the benediction.

Call to worship, responsive reading and the prayer will be conducted by Dr. St. Elmo Nauman, Bethel Congregational Church, Ontario.

Both programs will open with a processional. Chaffey's combined glee clubs will be featured at baccalaureate and its 60-voice concert choir at commencement.

Commencement will be followed by a faculty-hosted reception in the campus center dining room.

DONALD E. SHIVELY

Gas Company Picks Shively For PR Post

Appointment of Donald E. Shively, 889 Maryhurst, Claremont, as manager of public relations for Southern Counties Gas Co. was announced recently by Guy W. Wadsworth Jr., president of the gas utility firm.

Shively is currently serving as manager of Southern Counties' Eastern division, which serves this area. He will not take up his new duties until some time after his successor has been named as manager of the local division.

As public relations manager, Shively will have staff responsibility for all aspects of the gas company's public relations effort, Wadsworth's announcement said, including its community, employe, school and press relations programs.

Shively, who was born in Dexter, N.M. and educated in Covina, received his B.A. in business administration from Whittier College. He joined Southern Counties in 1937 as a helper in what was then the firm's Whittier district. After World War II service as a lieutenant in the Coast Guard, he returned to Southern Counties as local manager in the Monrovia area.

Shively was later transferred to the utility's general office in the Los Angeles area, where he held a variety of staff positions, principally in the firm's customers department. In 1958, he was made supervisor of stores, with a special assignment to extend the utility's cost control program to its stores operations.

In May, 1960, Shively returned to Southern Counties' customers department, becoming administrative specialist, charged with evaluating the latest developments in electronic data processing equipment for use in the gas company's operations.

In August, 1961, Shively was promoted to managership of the Eastern division, succeeding the late Homer R. Mead.

Shively and his wife, Wilma, have a 17-year-old daughter, Marjorie.

Junior-Senior High Youths Trained For Summer Jobs

Several hundred young people of junior and senior high school age have recently completed a training period for the "CLEAN & GREEN" and "CRIBS" Program.

The boys are trained to do yard work, take proper care of garden equipment and handle pool maintenance, with safety and emergency measures stressed.

The girls training, given by registered nurses, consists of baby-sitting responsibilities and duties along with proper safety precautions.

This program, through the fine cooperation of representatives of the West End Youth Employment Service, offered the training again this year, in hopes of providing the youth of this area with a better background to accept a job and carry through for his employer.

In turn, Y.E.S. would hope to encourage employers to employ these young people in jobs suitable for their age and training abilities.

Anyone interested in helping the qualified youths of the West End Area find either permanent or temporary summer positions are urged to contact Mrs. Frichtel, West End Youth Employment Office, YU 6-3811.

Some young student is eagerly awaiting your call and anxious to please! Won't you give them an opportunity?

Girl Scouts Select Staff For Roundup

Assuming staff jobs at the Girl Scout Roundup in Farragut, Idaho July 15-28, will be 10 representatives from the East San Gabriel Valley Council.

They will be part of a 1706 volunteer adult group that will supervise and provide services for the 10,000 Senior Girl Scouts from all parts of the country taking part in this giant national encampment.

Mrs. Margaret Flint of Claremont, field adviser for the local Council, will direct one of the camps containing about 256 girls. She recently attended a training session at Buck Hill Falls, Pa., where all 35 Roundup camp directors received instruction regarding their responsibilities.

Mrs. Flint has directed the established camps of the local Council for the last four summers.

Diana Adams of Whittier, another field adviser of East San Gabriel Valley Council, will attend the Roundup as an arts and exhibit consultant.

Mrs. Cory Aylor of Cucamonga, Chaffey District chairman and assistant senior troop adviser, Troop 1002, will be a camp administrative assistant.

Mrs. Walter Stewart of Ontario, president of the East San Gabriel Valley Council and senior adviser, Troop 1002, will serve as a press assistant.

The Whittier Districts have the largest number of adults attending. Mrs. George Child of Whittier, leader of Cadette troop 134, will be a mail clerk at the service center.

Mrs. Marybel Hill, director of the nursery school at the Whittier Presbyterian Church, has been appointed a driver for the hostessing service.

Mr. and Mrs. Burton Moore of La Habra and their daughter, Charlotta Moore, have all been assigned jobs. Moore, senior adviser, Troop 438, will be a driver in the Roundup motor pool. Mrs. Moore, consultant for the same troop, will be a troop adviser at the encampment. She performed a similar task three years ago when the Roundup was held at Button Bay, Vt. Charlotta, registered as a special service adult with Troop 438, will work as a food packer.

Rosemary Grembla of Santa Fe Springs, a student at Whittier College and a former active Girl Scout, has been appointed general aide in the conservation tours department. Her sister, Nancy, is a member of one of the local Roundup patrols that will take part in the encampment.

There are more than 40 different kinds of jobs to be done by adults at the Roundup. Troop advisers, food sorters, general aides and maintenance men form the largest categories. The National Girl Scout Organization provides tents and cots for staff members, but they must provide their own uniforms and transportation.

They arrive at the campsite several days before the girls to receive orientation and on-site training. Each applicant is carefully screened to make sure he can perform the task required. The 5,000 acre Farragut Wildlife Management Area was used as a Naval Training Station during World War II.

Attorney General To West End Newsmen: Crime Situation 'Volatile'

California today is experiencing "the greatest mass migration in the history of mankind," according to State Atty. Gen. Thomas Lynch, "so we have a volatile situation as far as crime is concerned."

Lynch, at a special conference last Saturday at the Uplander Motor Hotel, told West End newsmen that, with an estimated 1,000 to 2,000 persons arriving in California each day, "many of them are bound to be 'con' men."

The big difference between yesteryear and today, in the Attorney General's opinion, is that the city-slicker of old used to play the shell game. In 1965, he is a "white collar" crook, dealing in such commodities as phony land schemes and substandard home improvements.

A guest of Assemblyman John Quimby (D-Rialto), who said he was giving "a party to interest West End Democrats in the next election," Lynch admitted that "changes in constitutional interpretation during the last 10 years" had made the war against California's rising crime rate "more difficult."

"But," the visitor stressed, "we're taking steps to meet this problem created by the courts" through better training of our law enforcement officers, greater use of electronic data processing equipment and other modern techniques.

Referring to the electronic approach, the Attorney General said he was very much interested in new theories that indicate an individual's susceptibility to a life of crime can be determined through tests at a tender age.

Lynch told the local group, including Harold Bailin and Andrew Malahan, who arranged the Quimby get-together, that he believes strongly in local jurisdiction. "The function of my office is to assist, not run, local problems," he stated. "I'm the State's chief law officer, not law enforcement officer."

One major exception to this belief, he emphasized, is his opposition to the formation of private armies on a large or small scale. "I won't tolerate hate-preaching in any area," Lynch said. "They are dangerous to all."

Confiding that he had "de-liberately taken the lead against these groups," the Attorney General said he often is criticized by people who point out that most of these private armies consist of only 17 to 20 men. "All I can remember is that Hitler started out with 15 or 16 individuals," he observed.

Lynch said, "There appears to be inter-connections between these groups in different states," though such relationship is difficult to pin down. "We're not going to sit idly by and let them develop in California," he added.

On the subjject of politics, his primary purpose for being in Upland at the start of a holiday week end, Lynch admitted he enjoys the role of "unifier" of the Democratic Party, a job assigned to him by many top Democrats.

The Attorney General, asked why he had been handed the role, said, "I just happened to start my statewide political career not mad at anyone — and, thus far, no one is mad at me."

Lynch predicted confidently that the Democrats will come up with a united campaign in 1968. "If there are any party wounds," he commented, "they will be healed."

After the guest interviewed had cited three cleavages within the Republican party, "knocked" GOP hopeful Ronald Reagan and opined that the opposition won't be able to close its ranks, Quimby added his thoughts on the subject.

"We Democrats fight our battles in the open," the 72nd District Assemblyman asserted. "The Republicans fight theirs in locked rooms. As a result, they're in for more trouble. I think we're really swinging, and I'm delighted the Republicans aren't making any progress."

Mall Success Keeps Walker In Vital Job

Paul D. Walker, president of the Pomona First Federal Savings & Loan Association, again will assist the Chamber of Commerce of the United States in planning its community development program.

Announcement that Walker has agreed to serve a third term on the National Chamber's Construction and Community Development Committee was made in Washington, D.C., by president Robert P. Gerholz. Gerholz said Walker's guidance "in this policy and program area can be most useful to the National Chamber and the nation's business community."

Walker had served on the Pomona Mall Committee which created the nation's first privately financed pedestrian mall and which gave impetus to succesful regeneration of Pomona's ailing downtown core area.

Successive annual sales increases of 20, 17 and 12 per cent followed the Mall construction. Vacancies on the Mall have been reduced from 28 at start of construction to two at present.

The National Chamber's community development activities are being expanded, Gerholz said, through use of teams, seminars, research and other special efforts to increase the effectiveness of local business leadership in solving problems of community growth and change.

The total number of living veterans dropped below 22 million in December, 1964, and was 21,897,000 on March 1, 1965, the Veterans Administration reported. They average less than 46 years of age.

Girl Scouts Report High Cookie Sales

At a luncheon held in Covina on May 19, district and neighborhood cookie captains of the Girl Scout Council of East San Gabriel Valley were given a report on the recent cookie sale conducted by the Junior, Cadette and Senior troops of the Council.

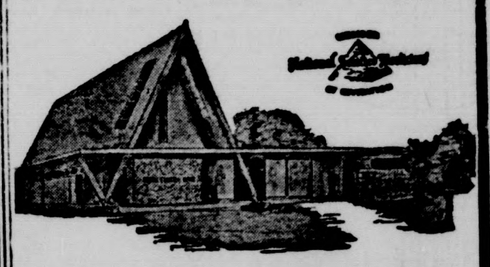

"Nearly 9,000 girls sold 211,788 boxes of cookies," announced Mrs. A. J. Wilson, West Covina, the Council cookie chairman. "This represents an average of twenty-four boxes per girl," Mrs. Wilson added.

The success of this year's sale will be reflected in enriched and varied program opportunities in Girl Scout troops and camps.

The cookie captains present were given an opportunity to evaluate this year's sale, and they discussed ways to achieve even greater success in 1966.

PROUD PATROLMEN are these three Upland recruits — (left to right) Raymond Cooley, Alfred Williams and Wesley Ray — who are shown being commended by Chief John Wessely for their recent completion of rigorous basic training at the Pomona Peace Officers' Training Academy. Under Upland's voluntary participation plan, the men fulfilled obligations of training — a minimum of 200 hours (four each day) within 18 months of their appointments — at a State-sponsored certified school, aiming for greater efficiency along the West Coast. The City was reimbursed for 100 hours for each recruit, funds coming from fines paid for criminal violations. In class of 29, Williams finished second with a 93.7 record, just behind the leader's 93.9.

Youths May Go To Day Camp For 'Peanuts'

The summer camping program for the Ontario-Upland YMCA will start Saturday, June 26, and Monday, June 28, according to an announcement this past week from Robert A. Jennings, general secretary.

The first session of day camp for boys will start Monday, June 28, continuing for nine days. The second period of day camp for boys will be July 12 to July 23.

A special period for girls will be held July 26 to Aug. 6.

Such activities as swimming, archery, hiking, special trips to points of interest, gym, trampoline, movies, softball, soccer, races, treasure hunts, singing and overnight campouts are a part of the day camp program.

Transportation to the various activities will be by bus. Campers will assemble each morning at 8 o'clock at the YMCA and return to the 'Y' by 3 o'clock in the afternoon.

Jennings stated that Ernest Heald, high school teacher and Hi-Y Club representative, will be director of the day camp, with Bryce Gharring, Midget and Gra-Y program supervisor and La Verne College student, as the assistant director.

Boys and girls may sell peanuts to earn their way to camp. Peanuts may be obtained at the YMCA office, 215 W. C St., Ontario.

For further information concerning camp, parents may contact the 'Y' by phoning YU 6-5847.
